[1] Excluding outlying areas (private canals) to which water is furnished under the Warren Act. Data are for calendar year (irrigation season) except on Salt River project data are for corresponding "agricultural year," October, 1916, to November, 1917.

[2] Area Reclamation Service was prepared to supply water.

[3] Irrigated crops. Excludes small areas on few projects cropped by dry farming.

[4] Includes so-called "dry lands" given right to rent water temporarily on account of ample storage.

[5] Includes about 5,000 acres within town sites, 3,000 acres reported "vacant" and probably largely pastured.

[6] Exclusive of relatively small area under private canals supplied Gunnison water.

[7] Includes New York Canal, Nampa-Meridian, and Pioneer district lands served project water.

[8] Crop reports covered an additional area of 8,780 acres cropped by dry farming, producing crops worth $47,548, or $5.42 per acre.

[9] Above figures are for 176 irrigated farms, which included small tracts farmed without irrigation. In addition, crop reports covered 17 farms operated without irrigation, on which 567 acres yielded crops worth $7,322, or $12.91 per acre.

[10] Crop reports covered an additional area of 8,739 acres dry-farmed, producing crops worth $90,550, or $10.36 per acre.

[11] Includes North Platte Canal & Colonization Co. lands.

[12] $51.36, excluding 10,100 acres of wild-grass pasture and 3,081 acres otherwise not in full production.

General note for irrigation tables.*—Source: The United States Reclamation Service, Department of the Interior. Complete statistics relating to irrigation in the United States have been collected in census years only. The figures given in these tables relate only to lands served by works controlled by this service. In 1909 the acreage so served (390,000) constituted 2.9 per cent of the total acreage irrigated in the United States, since which time the latter acreage has increased about 10 per cent. Data for calendar year (irrigation season), except on Salt River project, Ariz., data for corresponding agricultural year ending Nov. 30, 1916. Figures are restricted to irrigated areas covered by crop reports, excluding small areas cropped by dry farming on a few projects. All value figures are intended to show the value received by the farmer for his crops, whether sold on the farm or in town, with or without baling, boxing, etc. If fed by the farmer, the crop is given a value representing the average selling price on the farm.

No. 30.—DENSITY OF POPULATION PER SQUARE MILE AT EACH CENSUS, 1790 TO 1910: By States.

[Source: Reports of the Bureau of the Census, Department of Commerce.]

[Note.—In computing density of population for the United States, the areas and population of Alaska, Hawaii, and Porto Rico in 1900 and 1910, of Alaska and Hawaii in 1890, and of Indian Territory in 1860, 1870, and 1880 are not considered. The area of Indian reservations, outside of Indian Territory, is included in the area of the States and Territories in which they are severally situated, and in that of the United States, although the population of these Indian reservations was not ascertained, and for this reason can not be considered in figuring density of population at the censuses prior to 1890.]

[3] From 1910 to 1915, inclusive, includes only municipalities having a population of 1,000 or over in 1900.
Note.—Populations have been estimated by the arithmetical method. Owing to recent unusual migrations of the population and to the fact that 1917 is far away from the last census year, the estimates are probably too high in some cases and too low in others.

[1] Exclusive of stillbirths.
[2] Nonregistration.
[3] From 1910 to 1915, inclusive, includes only municipalities having a population of 1,000 or over in 1900.
[4] Includes District of Columbia.

Note.—Populations have been estimated by the arithmetical method. Owing to recent unusual migrations of the population and to the fact that 1917 is far away from the last census year, the estimates are probably too high in some cases and too low in others.

[1] Under the law allotments of grants to the several States for any year are to be determined each year by an apportionment based upon the returns of population at the last census preceding the allotment. Allotments based upon the census of 1920, for years subsequent to that census, will differ from the allotments for these years shown in the table, which are based upon the census of 1910, according as the distribution of the population by States in 1920 differs from that in 1910. Since the total amount available in any year for allotment to the States is specifically designated in the law, States showing for the decade 1910–1920 relatively high rates of increase for their population—total, urban, and rural, respectively—will receive allotments somewhat greater, and States showing relatively low rates of increase will receive allotments somewhat smaller than those specified in the table.

[2] It can not be announced at this time whether the tabulated returns of the 1920 census will be available as a basis of apportionment for the year 1920–21.

[3] North-Atlantic Region: Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Rhode Island, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland. Southern Region: Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Tennessee, Alabama, Mississippi, Arkansas, Louisiana, Texas. East-Central Region: West Virginia, Ohio, Kentucky, Michigan, Indiana, Wisconsin, Illinois, Minnesota, Iowa, Missouri. West-Central Region: North Dakota, South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma, Montana, Wyoming, Colorado, New Mexico. Pacific Region: Idaho, Utah, Arizona, Nevada, Washington, Oregon, California.

[4] The totals shown in this table include annual lump sum appropriations by Congress to cover guarantees of minimums of $5,000 and $10,000 to each State. In the actual apportionment of grants to the States on the basis of rural, urban, and total populations the sum of the special allotments to make up the guaranteed minimums for each year does not quite equal the lump sum appropriation made to provide for these special allotments. The totals given in this table, therefore, exceed slightly the totals shown in the State tables preceding.
