12. NATIONAL WEALTH, INCOME, AND DEBT

(Data in this section relate to continental United States)

No. 334.—ESTIMATED NATIONAL WEALTH OF THE UNITED STATES: TOTAL, 1850 TO 1922, AND BY CLASSES OF PROPERTY, 1900 TO 1922

NOTE.—Estimates of national wealth for the earlier censuses were not made by precisely the same methods used more recently and are not closely comparable. Changes in buying power of money, as indicated by levels of prices and wages, materially affect the comparisons (see price tables in Sec. 13). For distribution of principal classes of property by States for 1912 and 1922, see Statistical Abstract, 1932, table 275. There have been no official estimates of wealth since 1922

No. 335.—WEALTH: Estimated Value of All Tangible Property Situated in Each Geographic Division and State

Note.—See headnote to table 334. This table shows, not the value of property owned by the citizens of each State, but that of the physical property lying in each State wherever the securities or other evidences of title representing it may be found or owned. The per capita figures thus do not represent the average wealth of the citizens of each State

[1] Total differs from estimate as published in 1912 because of revision of estimate for taxed real property in Oklahoma. Includes $402,000,000 value of ships belonging to the United States Navy and $290,000,000 value of privately owned water-supply systems not distributed by States. Items for geographic divisions and States differ from estimate as published in 1912 because of redistribution of railroad values in accordance with the method employed in 1922.

[2] Total includes $1,446,000,000 value of ships belonging to the United States Navy, $361,000,000 privately owned water-supply systems, and $4,278,000,000 gold and silver coin and bullion not distributed by States.

[3] Includes Indian Territory.

[4] Differs from estimate as published in 1912 because of revision of estimate for taxed real property.

No. 336.—NATIONAL INCOME PRODUCED AND PAID OUT

NOTE.—Under the concept of national income employed in this study, the following items have not been included: Imputed income from ownership of durable goods (including owned homes), the imputed value of services of housewives and other members of the family, earnings from odd jobs, direct relief and charity, earnings from illegal pursuits, and changes in value of assets not derived by groups professionally occupied in the handling of assets. Business savings represent the difference between the income produced in a given year and the amount actually distributed to individuals. Negative savings are incurred when the business system pays to individuals more than was produced in a given year.

[1] The estimates of the number employed are averages for the year and represent full time equivalent numbers for industries in which data permit such adjustments.

[2] Does not include employers and self-employed persons, such as farmers, merchants, independent professional practitioners, etc., nor work-relief employees and unpaid family farm labor.

No. 340.—LONG-TERM DEBT, PUBLIC AND PRIVATE: Estimated Amounts Outstanding at the End of the Year, by Classes

NOTE.—These figures represent gross debt. Insofar as possible, obligations held by the issuing corporation or individual are excluded, but no eliminations are made for intragroup and intergroup holdings of evidences of debt. Under the concept of long-term debt employed in this study, figures include, in general, debt issued with maturities of more than 1 year. Estimates for some items of private debt, partucularly for the earlier years, are subject to wide margins of error. Percentages indicating the estimator's opinion as to the probable margin of error for 1912 to 1934 are shown in the previous issue of this publication. The probable margin of error in the totals for the later years is around 3 percent. As the element of bias is believed to be in the same direction for all years, the figures are more reliable for the measurement of the flow of debt than to measure the absolute volume as of a particular date.

[1] This summary excludes the debt of financial corporations which is largely duplicated in other basic debt. Private financial corporative debt has been estimated at about $2,600,000,000 for recent years. Bonds, notes, and debentures of governmental corporations and credit agencies, excluding interagency liabilities and Federal land-bank bonds held by the Federal Farm Mortgage Corporation, amounted to $5,100,000,000 on Dec. 31, 1934, and $5,900,000,000 on Dec. 31, 1935; these figures include $3,300,000,000 and $4,500,000,000, respectively, of bonds guaranteed by the U. S. Government, representing contingent Federal debt.

[2] Funded debt actually outstanding for railways and switching and terminal companies. The 1930, 1934, and 1935 figures are raised to take account of receivers' certificates and funded debt matured unpaid. The margin of error is very small for these figures.

[3] Preliminary estimates from sample data.

[4] Figures are for corporations operating for profit and do not include debts of unincorporated business firms. Debts of the latter in the form of mortgage loans are included in urban realty debt figures.

[5] Figures for 1912, 1922, and 1930 are interpolated between estimates of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics on the basis of annual statistics of interest payable on farm mortgages published by that Bureau. The figure shown for both 1934 and 1935 is an estimate as of Jan. 1, 1935, by the Bureau of the Census, Department of Commerce, and the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, Department of Agriculture.

[6] Estimates are very rough. They include debts of unincorporated business enterprises and nonprofit corporations as well as real estate debts proper. Estimates for 1935 are tentative.

[7] For additional statistics relating to public debt, consult index for references to data in other sections.

[8] Includes bonds and Treasury notes and also, for 1922, Treasury war savings securities; these items constitute a debt figure which is roughly comparable with private long-term debt figures.

[9] Estimates as of June 30, 1913, 1923, 1931, and 1935. Data are not available for 1936.

13. PRICES

GENERAL NOTE.—The wholesale price index of the Department of Labor is based on primary market quotations of 784 commodities beginning 1926; a smaller number of commodities was covered in earlier years. The price of each article is weighted by the approximate quantities marketed during intervals fairly close to the period covered by the indexes. Beginning with 1921, in computing indexes for commodity groups, articles falling under more than one of the classifications adopted were included under each classification. For example, articles produced on the farm which reach the consumer practically unchanged in form, such as potatoes, milk, and eggs, were included among both farm products and foods. However, in computing the index for all commodities such articles were counted only once.

The retail food index presented in this section, with the exception of certain data shown in table 349, is a revised series. The revised indexes are computed from aggregate costs of 42 foods in 51 large cities prior to January 1, 1935, and of 84 foods since that date. To obtain the aggregate cost in each city, the average prices of individual foods were combined by means of weights based on total purchases of wage earners and lower salaried workers in 1918. City costs were combined with the use of population weights to determine the cost for the United States as a whole. Prior to August 1933, prices were collected on the 15th of the month; thereafter they were collected every 2 weeks.

The farm price index is based on prices paid to producers for 34 major crops and beginning 1924, also 13 commercial truck crops. Average quotations for the period, August 1909-July 1914, are used as a base, and each price series is weighted by the average annual marketings of farmers in the years 1924 to 1929.

No. 346.—WHOLESALE PRICES: INDEX NUMBERS, ALL COMMODITIES AND BY ECONOMIC CLASSES

NOTE.—Figures in boxes indicate number of quotations. As originally published, Bradstreet's "Index" is the sum of the prices per pound of 96 commodities; Dun's represents the aggregate cost per capita of a year's supply of the approximately 300 commodities included. In the following table, both series have been expressed as a percentage of 1926 by the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce. Indexes of the National Bureau of Economic Research for 1916 to 1928 are unweighted geometric means for approximately 490 commodities (converted from a 1913 base to a 1929 base by the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce); for subsequent years they are weighted arithmetic means for 680 price series, the weights being based upon the average value of production in 1927 and 1931. For method of computing the Department of Labor index see general note, p. 299

[1] Beginning 1926. In earlier years a smaller number of commodities was included.

[2] Number of quotations used beginning 1929; see headnote regarding earlier years. The sum of the number of quotations for producers' goods and consumers' goods and for durable and non-durable goods is greater than the number of all commodities owing to duplication of certain price series in the classifications. For example, identical price quotations on flour are used in both producers' goods and consumers' goods.

[3] Perishable and semi-durable.

No. 347.—COST OF GOODS PURCHASED BY WAGE EARNERS AND LOWER-SALARIED WORKERS IN THE UNITED STATES: INDEX NUMBERS

NOTE.—1923–1925 average=100. Figures for food represent 51 cities since 1920 and a smaller number in earlier years; other figures, 19 cities from 1913 to 1917, and 32 cities thereafter. Totals weighted by relative importance of items as ascertained by country-wide study of cost of living made in 1918–19. Except for 1913, the annual average indexes for items other than foods, are estimates based on indexes compiled as of particular dates at irregular intervals, shown in previous issues of this publication. They represent weighted averages of indexes for each pricing period affecting the year. For example, where goods were priced in June and December, the indexes for December of the previous year were considered in arriving at the average for the year. The annual average food index is based on monthly indexes

NOTE.—The "old series" represents the series carried in the 1935 and previous issues of the Statistical Abstract converted from a 1913 base by the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce. The simple average of indexes for 1923, 1924, and 1925 on the 1913 base was used for converting. The "revised series" published for 1923 to 1936 incorporates certain changes in methods of weighting and computation (see last paragraph of general note, p. 299, for a brief description of this index)

No. 353.—ANNUAL AVERAGE UNIT VALUES OF IMPORTANT ARTICLES IMPORTED INTO THE UNITED STATES

NOTE.—The values are required by law to represent the values of the goods in the foreign markets whence exported to the United States. "Ton" signifies long ton of 2,240 pounds. The averages are obtained by dividing the total value of imports of the specified article by the total quantity, and as in some commodities there may be considerable variations in price between different grades, methods of packing, etc., and as the proportions of the grades, etc., may vary from year to year, the averages in such cases may show the actual price movements only roughly
