Section 32

Outlying Areas Under the Jurisdiction of the United States

This section presents summary statistics on the industrial, social, and agricultural organization of the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, the principal possessions of the United States (Virgin Islands, Guam, and American Samoa), and the Canal Zone. Population estimates of the Trust Territory of the Pacific Islands are also presented.

Primary sources of these data are the decennial censuses of population, housing, and agriculture, and the quinquennial censuses of business and manufactures conducted by the Bureau of the Census; the annual Vital Statistics of the United States issued by the Public Health Service; the biennial Statistics of State School Systems published by the Office of Education; the Minerals Yearbook of the Bureau of Mines; and the annual Agricultural Statistics of the Department of Agriculture.

Jurisdiction.—The circumstances under which the United States gained jurisdiction over these areas are as follows:

The islands of Puerto Rico and Guam, surrendered by Spain to the United States in October 1898, were ceded to the United States by the Treaty of Paris, signed December 10, 1898, and ratified in 1899. Puerto Rico acquired the status of a commonwealth on July 25, 1952.

The Virgin Islands, formerly known as the Danish West Indies, were purchased by the United States from Denmark in 1917.

American Samoa was acquired by the United States in accordance with a convention among the United States, Great Britain, and Germany, signed December 2, 1899, and ratified February 16, 1900.

The use, occupation, and control of the Canal Zone were granted to the United States under the terms of a treaty with the Republic of Panama, signed November 18, 1903, and ratified in 1904.

The Trust Territory of the Pacific Islands is comprised of 2,141 atolls and islands, 96 of which are inhabited. This territory, formerly under Japanese mandate, was placed under the United Nations trusteeship system by an agreement approved by the Security Council on April 27, 1947, and by the United States on July 18, 1947.

For a brief summary of the territorial development of the United States, see tables 5 and 250 in sections 1 and 6, respectively.

Censuses.—Because of differences in the population and housing characteristics and the varieties of agricultural products among the outlying areas, the presentation of census data is not uniform for all areas. However, the tables in this section give, as nearly as possible, comparable data for the areas. The 1960 Census of Population covered all of the places listed above except the Trust Territory of the Pacific Islands (the census of which was conducted in April 1958 by the Office of the High Commissioner), whereas the 1960 Census of Housing covered only Puerto Rico, Guam, and the Virgin Islands. The 1959 Census of Agriculture covered Puerto Rico, American Samoa, Guam, and the Virgin Islands; the 1964 Census covered the same areas except American Samoa. Censuses of Business and Manufactures were conducted in Puerto Rico for 1954, 1958, and 1963, and in Guam and the Virgin Islands for 1958 and 1963.

For definition and explanation of terms used, see section 1, Population; section 23, Agriculture—Farms, Land, and Finances; section 24, Agriculture—Production, Marketing, and Trade; section 28, Construction and Housing; section 29, Manufactures; and section 30, Distribution and Services.

Information in other sections.—In addition to the specialized statistics presented in this section, other data are included as integral parts of many tables showing distribution by States in various sections of the Abstract.

[1] Value of shipments less cost of materials, supplies, fuels, electric energy, and contract work plus net change in finished goods and work-in-process inventory and value added in merchandising activities of manufacturing establishments.

[2] Represents net selling value, f.o.b. plant, after discounts and allowances, of all shipments of products from manufacturing establishments of an industry, plus receipts for miscellaneous activities of such plants. Excludes freight charges and excise taxes. Products transferred to other establishments of the same company are valued at the nearest approximation to the economic value. Includes extensive duplication arising from shipments between establishments in the same industry.

Section 33

Comparative International Statistics

This section presents summary statistics on the industrial, social, and agricultural organization of the various nations and on finances of international agencies.

The principal source for the data presented in this section is the United Nations Statistical Yearbook. Statistics of the individual nations may be found primarily in official publications, generally in the form of yearbooks, issued by most of the nations at various intervals in their own national languages, expressed in their own or customary units of measure. For handier reference, especially for international comparisons, the Statistical Office of the United Nations compiles and issues a number of international summary publications, generally in English and French. Among these are the Statistical Yearbook, the Demographic Yearbook, the Yearbook of International Trade Statistics, the Yearbook of National Accounts Statistics, Population and Vital Statistics Reports (quarterly), the Monthly Bulletin of Statistics, The Growth of World Industry: National Tables, 1938–1961, and The Growth of World Industry: International Analyses and Tables, 1938–1961.

For foreign agricultural and labor statistics, the outstanding sources are the Yearbook of Food and Agricultural Statistics, issued by the Food and Agriculture Organization, and the Yearbook of Labour Statistics, issued by the International Labour Office; both are specialized agencies of the United Nations. These publications usually present data covering an extensive period of time, frequently up to 20 years. The International Population Statistics Reports, Series P–90 and P–91, issued by the Bureau of the Census, also present population figures for many foreign countries.

Statistical coverage.—Problems of space and availability of data limit the number of countries and the extent of statistical coverage shown here. The list of countries included is based on, but not limited to, the membership rosters of the United Nations and of the larger specialized agencies of the United Nations (see table 1283). In a few instances, member countries were omitted because of an almost complete lack of data.

The items selected for presentation here are believed to be among those most significant. However, certain important items, such as those on national income, are omitted because of the inability to convert the available statistics, stated in terms of the national currencies, to meaningful consistency in United States measures.

OECD, EEC, and EFTA.—The Organisation for European Economic Co-operation (OEEC), a regional grouping of Western European countries established in 1948 for the purpose of harmonizing national economic policies and conditions, was succeeded on September 30, 1961, by the Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development (OECD). The OECD consists of the member nations of the former OEEC—Austria, Belgium, Denmark, France, Germany (Federal Republic), Greece, Iceland, Ireland, Italy, Luxembourg, the Netherlands, Norway, Portugal, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland, Turkey, and the United Kingdom—and also Canada and the United States.

The European Economic Community (EEC), or "Common Market," consisting of Belgium, France, Germany (Federal Republic), Italy, Luxembourg, and the Netherlands, was formed in 1958 for the purpose of promoting European economic integration. It is based on agreement among the member nations to stimulate their economic growth, primarily through the gradual elimination of trade barriers among themselves, the establishment of a common external tariff, the coordination of monetary, fiscal, and agricultural policies, and the removal of restrictions on movement of services, labor, capital, and business enterprises within the community.

The European Free Trade Association (EFTA), established in late 1959, consists of Austria, Denmark, Norway, Portugal, Sweden, Switzerland, and the United Kingdom. It represents an agreement among the member nations to promote free trade and economic cooperation in Europe through gradual elimination of tariffs and quotas among themselves but without establishment of a common external tariff.

Quality and comparability of the data.—The quality and the comparability of the data presented here are affected by a number of factors:

(1) The year for which data are presented may not be the same for all subjects for a particular country, or for a given subject for different countries, though the data shown are the most recent available. All such variations have been noted. The data shown are for calendar years except as otherwise stated in headnotes or footnotes. Space limitations made it impracticable to present the data for a series of years except for population, indexes of per capita product, agriculture, and gold and foreign exchange holdings.

(2) The bases, methods of estimating, methods of data collection, extent of coverage, precision of definition, scope of territory, and margins of error may vary for different items within a particular country, and for like items for different countries. Footnotes and headnotes to the tables give a few of the major time-period and coverage qualifications attached to the figures; considerably more detail is presented in the source publications. Many of the measures shown are, at best, merely rough indicators of magnitude.

(3) Figures shown in this section for the United States may not always agree with figures shown in the preceding sections. Disagreements may be attributable to the use of differing original sources, a difference in the definition of geographic limits (conterminous United States only, or including Alaska and Hawaii or certain outlying areas and possessions), or to possible adjustments made in the United States figures by the United Nations in order to improve their comparability with figures from other countries.

Conversion factors.—To facilitate comparison in terms of familiar units, items shown in metric units in the source have been converted to U.S. equivalents by means of the conversion factors given in the Statistical Yearbook and shown below. Additional conversion factors appear in Appendix I, Weights and Measures, pages 945 and 946.

No. 1257. Area and Population

[Except as noted, area data include inland waters. Population data generally are present-in-area estimates for the present territory. For some countries, however, the estimates have been adjusted to include national armed forces and diplomats stationed outside the country and to exclude alien armed forces, foreign diplomats, and enemy prisoners of war stationed within the country. See text, p. 860, for general comments concerning the data. For details of methodology, coverage, and reliability, see source]

[1] Refers to crop year ending in 1965, except as noted. All commodities index relates to food, fibers, tobacco, industrial oil seeds, rubber, tea, and coffee; food index to crops and livestock products for human consumption. Deduction made for feed and seed used in production process.

[2] Components of these indexes vary considerably among countries; for details, see source.

[3] Refers, in general, to salaried employees and wage earners in manufacturing. Includes workers on holiday or vacation; excludes employers, self-employed, workers on strike, on temporary military leave, or temporarily laid off.

[4] In many instances, represents index only for principal city (or cities) of particular country.

[5] General wholesale price index numbers usually weighted by gross value of sales on wholesale markets.

[6] As of 4th quarter of 1966, except as noted. Indexes based primarily on common shares traded on leading exchange or exchanges of each country, and intended to cover representative sample of companies in manufacturing, mining, and construction fields. In some cases, where an index of industrial shares is not available, a general index, including shares of companies in transportation, distribution, and finance fields, is reported.

[7] For 1963. [8] For 1964.

[9] Wage earners only. [10] July 1958–June 1959=100. For year beginning July 1.

[11] Home consumption of foodstuffs and industrial raw materials.

[12] For year ending June 30. [13] Includes mining and quarrying.

[14] Luxembourg included with Belgium. [15] For 1962.

[16] October 1957–September 1958=100. [17] Farm products only.

[18] 1960=100. [19] Data for one month.

[20] General index. [21] 1959=100.

[22] 1961=100. [23] San Salvador; 1962=100.

[24] 1962=100. [25] Includes mining.

[26] Includes the Saar. [27] 1963=100.

[28] Guatemala City only. [29] Mar. 21, 1959–Mar. 20, 1960=100.

[30] Includes working proprietors. [31] 3d quarter.

[32] April 1958–March 1959=100. For year beginning Apr. 1. [33] For year beginning Apr. 1.

[34] For year beginning July. [35] July 1957–June 1958=100. Year ending June 30.

[36] Includes sea fishing. [37] Includes workers on own account.

[38] Basic materials. [39] None or negligible quantity.

[40] Producers' prices of industrial products. [41] Residential building materials.

NA Not available.

[1] Includes unemployed, except as noted.

[2] Comprises utilities generating primarily for public use, plus industrial establishments generating primarily for own use. Relates to production at generating centers, including station use and transmission losses.

[3] Based on apparent consumption of coal, lignite, petroleum products, natural gas, and hydro-electricity.

[4] Relates to production, including repair work in factories; generally excludes mining, building and construction, and public utilities.

[5] Coverage varies widely. For most countries, refers to single plants or factories with more than a specified number of employees, as noted. For additional or alternative qualifications, see source.

[6] Comprises average number of paid employees, working proprietors, unpaid family workers, and homeworkers, except as noted.

[7] Covers merchandise including silver (except current coin); excludes gold and issued paper currency. Imports generally valued c.i.f.; exports, f.o.b. Generally, postal and governmental trade included, war reparations and restitutions excluded. See source for "general trade" or "special trade" category distinctions. Roughly half the countries fall into each category, thus affecting comparability.

[8] Excludes trade of China (mainland), Mongolia, North Korea, and North Viet-Nam with one another.

[9] Imports and exports include Puerto Rico.

[10] Excludes Armed Forces abroad.

[11] Net production (excluding station use).

[12] For 1963.

[13] Establishments with 1 or more employees.

[14] Paid employees. [15] F.o.b.

[16] Includes foreign aid. [17] Year ending June 30.

[18] Establishments with 4 or more engaged.

[19] For 1962.

[20] Luxembourg included with Belgium.

[21] For 1961. [22] Excludes homeworkers.

[23] Principal industries. [24] For 1960.

[25] Registered establishments. [26] For 1964.

[27] Establishments with 10 or more employees.

[28] Establishments with 5 or more engaged.

[29] Excludes armed forces and unpaid family workers.

[30] Year beginning Apr. 1.

[31] Year ending in September.

[32] Establishments with 5 or more employees.

[33] Establishments with 10 or more engaged.

[34] Excludes trade with Federal Republic of Germany.

[35] Includes the Saar.

[36] Establishments with 30 or more engaged.

[37] Establishments with 10–49 workers if using power or 20–99 workers if not using power.

[38] Public utility plants only. [39] Includes peat.

[40] Establishments with 3 or more engaged.

[41] Man-years.

[42] Establishments with 2 or more engaged.

[43] Establishments with annual value of production exceeding 12,000 córdobas.

[44] Establishments with 20 or more employees.

[45] Excludes persons in institutions and armed forces.

[46] Private establishments with 3 or more engaged.

[47] Includes Canary Islands and possessions in North Africa.

[48] Includes Canary Islands and Ceuta.

[1] Excludes lignite and brown coal, except as noted.
[2] Source presents data in metric tons. Conversion to barrels allows for differences in specific gravity of petroleum. Figures refer to crude petroleum including shale oil, but excluding natural gasoline.
[3] Covers, as far as possible, all hydraulic cements used for construction (portland, metallurgic, aluminous, natural, etc.).
[4] Refers generally to iron content of marketable ores mined, including manganiferous iron ores but excluding pyrites. Some data are rough estimates obtained by applying a fixed percentage to figures for crude ore production.
[5] Data expressed in terms of pure (monohydrate) sulfuric acid and include sulfuric acid equivalent of oleum or "fuming" acid.
[6] Total production of crude steel, both ingots and steel for castings. Excludes wrought (puddled) iron.
[7] Data represent apparent consumption (i.e., production plus imports minus exports) and do not take into account changes in stocks.
[8] Excludes China (mainland) and North Korea. [9] Excludes China (mainland).
[10] Excludes manganiferous iron ores containing 5 percent or more of manganese. [11] For 1964.
[12] Ingots only. [13] Includes wastes. [14] Year ending June 30. [15] Excludes natural cement.
[16] Luxembourg included with Belgium. [17] Strength of acid not reported. [18] Excludes alloy steels.
[19] Shipment from mines. [20] For 1963. [21] Includes lignite. [22] For 1960.
[23] Approximate production, crude ore (iron content 50–60 percent). [24] For 1959. [25] Includes Manchuria.
[26] None or negligible. [27] Excludes sulfuric acid for superphosphate production. [28] Includes the Saar.
[29] Year beginning in March. [30] For 1961. [31] Includes iron content of iron sand.
[32] Approximate production, crude ore (iron content not available).
[33] Production in "Neutral Zone" shared by Kuwait and Saudi Arabia amounted to 132,287 barrels.
[34] Exports. [35] Sarawak only. [36] West Malaysia only. [37] Svalbard; Norwegian-operated mines only.
[38] Includes slurry and middlings. [39] Shale oil. [40] Refers to Sheikdom of Abu Dhabi.
[41] Great Britain only. Excludes production at quarries.

[1] Refers to production of milk (cow, sheep, goat, etc.) for consumption fresh or for conversion into butter, cheese, condensed milk, etc. Excludes milk sucked by, but includes milk fed to, young animals.

[2] Covers malt liquors (beer, ale, stout, porter, etc.) of varying specific gravity or alcoholic strength. Excludes tax-free malt beverages of very low alcoholic content.

[3] Covers both sea and inland fisheries, in terms of live weight. Except as noted, includes shellfish; excludes whales, dolphins, etc. Except as noted, includes landings by domestic craft in foreign ports, and excludes landings by foreign craft in domestic ports.

[4] In place as of Dec. 31, except as noted. Relates to 3 and 4 cylinder cotton system spinning spindles installed in cotton mills, including a number spinning rayon staple all or part of the time. Includes ring spindles only.

[5] Excludes tire cord yarn, except as noted. [6] Refers to carded and combed (worsted) yarn.

[7] Refers to rayon and acetate continuous filament yarn plus monofilaments, except as noted.

[8] Excludes China (mainland) and North Korea. [9] Year ending June 30. [10] Includes tire cord yarn.

[11] For 1964. [12] As of June 30. [13] Includes milk sucked by young animals.

[14] Refers to 90–95 percent of total output. [15] Production in São Paulo only. [16] For 1958.

[17] For 1961. [18] Includes landings by foreign craft in domestic ports. [19] Factory production only.

[20] Government production only. [21] Year beginning Apr. 1.

[22] Excludes landings by domestic craft in foreign ports. [23] Commercial production. [24] For 1963.

[25] For 1960. [26] For 1959. [27] For 1957. [28] Year ending in September. [29] For 1962.

[30] Excludes cigarillos. [31] Excludes goat and sheep milk. [32] Excludes goat milk.

No. 1278. Foreign Exchange Rates: 1966

[National currency units per U.S. dollar. As of June 30. Exchange rate denotes a single rate applicable to both buying and selling transactions. Selling or import rates are the rates at which the monetary authorities, including the banks, sell foreign exchange for national currency to those making payments abroad. Buying or export rates are the rates at which the authorities buy foreign exchange from those earning it. Mid-point rates are averages of selling and buying rates. Free rates are those that fluctuate to some extent in response to private transactions]

[1] As of June 30. Represents gross registered tons (see text, p. 582) for vessels of 100 gross tons and over. Excludes vessels without mechanical means of propulsion; includes sailing vessels with auxiliary power. Excludes ships trading on Caspian Sea.

[2] In general, represents sum of net registered tonnages (see text, p. 582) of seagoing foreign and domestic merchant vessels (power and sailing) entered with cargo from a foreign port and refers to only one entrance for each foreign voyage. Where possible excludes vessels, "in ballast," i.e., entering without unloading goods.

[3] Represents weight of all goods (including their packing) in external trade loaded to and unloaded from seagoing vessels of all flags at ports of country specified. For most countries, excludes bunkers, ships' stores, ballast, and transshipment (goods transshipped from an importing vessel to an exporting vessel).

[4] Relates to domestic and international traffic on all railway lines within each country shown excluding railways entirely within an urban unit and plantation, industrial mining, funicular and cable railways. In general, passenger miles include all passengers except military, government, and railway personnel when carried without revenue; ton-miles relate to freight net ton-miles and include all goods whether carried by fast or ordinary trains except service traffic, mail, baggage, and nonrevenue governmental stores.

[5] Covers both domestic and international scheduled services operated by companies registered in each country. Includes supplementary services occasioned by overflow traffic on regularly scheduled trips and preparatory flights for new scheduled services.

[6] Represents officially estimated number of vehicles in use. Includes passenger cars and commercial vehicles. For most countries shown, excludes 2- and 3-wheeled cycles and motorcycles, trains, trolley buses, ambulances, hearses, military vehicles, police and special purpose or government security vehicles, trailers, and farm tractors.

[7] Includes Great Lakes.

[8] After time adjustment, loaded approximately same as unloaded.

[9] Includes Great Lakes international traffic.

[10] Year ending June 30. [11] For 1964.

[12] For 1957. [13] For 1963.

[14] All entrances counted.

[15] Year ending Sept. 30.

[16] Includes Great Lakes and St. Lawrence international traffic.

[17] For 1959. [18] For 1961. [19] For 1955.

[20] For 1956. [21] Commercial vehicles only.

[22] Year beginning Apr. 1. [23] Includes the Saar.

[24] Passenger cars only.

[25] Year beginning Mar. 21.

[26] Year beginning Mar. 21. Includes Caspian Sea traffic.

[27] For 1962. [28] Year beginning July 1.

[29] Excludes Azores and Madeira Islands.

[30] Includes South West Africa.

[31] Includes the Balearic Islands, Ceuta, and Melilla.

[1] Comprises public and private telephones (including extension instruments) connected to a central exchange. World total in 1965 estimated at 195.3 million.

[2] Comprises generally all types of telegrams including cablegrams and radiograms, but excludes messages in transit.

[3] Items mailed for distribution within national territories. Comprises letters, postcards, printed matter, business papers, small merchandise samples, small packets, and phonopost packets. Includes mail carried without charge, but excludes ordinary packages, and letters and packages with a declared value.

[4] Publications containing general news and appearing at least 4 times a week; may range in size from a single sheet to 50 or more pages. Circulation data include copies sold outside the country.

[5] Number of licenses issued for receiving sets except as noted. Figures should be used with caution as number of licenses fails, in varying degrees from country to country, to represent full number in use. Data apply to all types of receivers for radio broadcasts to the public, including loudspeakers connected to a "radio redistribution system" but excluding television sets. World total in 1965 estimated at 551 million sets in use.

[6] Number of licenses issued for receiving sets except as noted. World total in 1965 estimated at 181 million sets in use.

[7] Telegrams and radios exclude Alaska and Hawaii.

[8] Includes messages to Canada, Mexico, St. Pierre, and Miquelon.

[9] Domestic and foreign, including ordinary packages and mail with a declared value.

[10] Years ending June 30. [11] English dailies only. [12] Estimated number of receivers in use.

[13] For 15 dailies only. [14] For 1964. [15] Includes French Union countries, and Metropolitan France.

[16] For 1963. [17] For 143 dailies only.

[18] Includes combined sound-television licenses which are licenses covering both radio and television sets.

[19] For 1962. [20] Covers all telegrams sent by land.

[21] Years beginning April 1. [22] Includes foreign, received and sent.

[23] English and French language dailies only. [24] Years ending Sept. 30. [25] For 43 dailies only.

[26] For 5 dailies only. [27] For 1961. [28] For 4 dailies only.

[29] Not indicated whether data are for number of licenses issued for receiving sets or for estimated receivers in use.

[30] Includes the Saar.

[31] Number excludes 700 regional editions; circulation includes them. [32] Mar. 31, 1966.

[33] For 367 dailies only. [34] For 60 dailies only. [35] For 13 dailies only.

[36] For 82 dailies only. [37] Includes some dailies having both morning and evening editions.

[38] For 2 dailies only. [39] For 8 dailies only. [40] For 18 dailies only. [41] For 1960.

[42] All letters, printed matter, and parcel post sent.

[43] Revenue telegrams, excluding those transmitted exclusively over railway telegraph lines.

[44] Includes Liechtenstein. [45] For 22 dailies only.

[46] All telegrams sent. [47] For 23 dailies only.

No. 1282. Education and Health

[Education: Figures usually refer to both public and private schools for the school year beginning in year stated, and generally exclude adult education, apprenticeship courses, and correspondence schools. Intercountry comparisons subject to caution owing to variations in definition and coverage. Health: Generally, data refer to persons fully qualified or certificated from medical, dental, or pharmacy schools, and working within the country. Intercountry comparisons subject to caution owing to lack of precise information for many countries on professional level and number working. See text, p. 860, for general comments concerning the data. For additional qualifications for individual countries, see source]

Section 34

Metropolitan Area Statistics

The metropolitan areas for which statistics are presented here are those officially defined as standard metropolitan statistical areas (SMSA's) by the U.S. Bureau of the Budget in Standard Metropolitan Statistical Areas, 1967. As of July 1, 1967, there were 231 SMSA's. The 3 SMSA's in Puerto Rico, are not included here because data for most of the items selected are not available for these areas.

Two tables form the basic framework of this section: Table 1 presents 144 items of information for the 110 SMSA's of 50,000 to 250,000 inhabitants or more; table 2 shows 63 items for the remaining SMSA's of 50,000 to 250,000 inhabitants. The differences in content between table 1 and table 2 are due primarily to the lack of certain data for the smaller SMSA's.

For New England, data are shown here for both metropolitan State economic areas (SEA's) and SMSA's wherever it was possible to do so. SEA's consist of whole counties; SMSA's in New England, of towns and cities. SEA data are included because, for a large number of the items shown here, only county data are available to serve as a basis for providing metropolitan area figures.

The Bureau of the Budget first issued definitions for metropolitan areas in 1949. The primary objective in establishing standard definitions was to make it possible for all Federal agencies to utilize the same boundaries in publishing statistical data useful for analyzing metropolitan problems.

The general concept of a metropolitan area is one of an integrated economic and social unit with a recognized large population nucleus. Each SMSA contains at least one central city with at least 50,000 inhabitants or more. The SMSA includes the county of such a central city and adjacent counties that are found to be metropolitan in character and economically and socially integrated with the county of the central city. In New England, as noted above, the requirement with regard to a central city as a nucleus still holds, but the units comprising the area are the towns rather than counties. The county (or town in New England) is the basic statistical unit. An SMSA may contain more than one city provided the cities have contiguous boundaries and a combined population of at least 50,000, the smaller of which must have a population of at least 15,000. The largest city is considered the nucleus and usually gives the name to the area. However, the name may also include other cities in the area. Standard metropolitan statistical areas may cross State lines.

Area boundaries have been redefined from time to time because of population changes that have taken place since the inception of the concept of SMSA's. Unless otherwise noted, the statistics in these tables are for SMSA's as defined on July 1, 1967. Titles and definitions of SMSA's and of the New England SEA's appear on pages 941–944.

Reprints of this section of the Statistical Abstract may be obtained from the Superintendent of Documents, Washington, D.C. 20402. Price per copy, 25 cents; sets of 100 copies, $18.75.
