Section 32

Comparative International Statistics

This section presents summary statistics on the industrial, social, and agricultural developments of the various nations and on finances of international agencies.

The principal source for the data presented in this section is the United Nations Statistical Yearbook. Statistics of the individual nations may be found primarily in official publications, generally in the form of yearbooks, issued by most of the nations at various intervals in their own national languages, expressed in their own or customary units of measure. For handier reference, especially for international comparisons, the Statistical Office of the United Nations compiles and issues a number of international summary publications, generally in English and French. Among these are the Statistical Yearbook, the Demographic Yearbook, the Yearbook of International Trade Statistics, the Yearbook of National Accounts Statistics: Vol. III, International Tables, Population and Vital Statistics Reports (quarterly), the Monthly Bulletin of Statistics, World Energy Supplies, and The Growth of World Industry: Vol. I, General Industrial Statistics, and Vol. II, Commodity Production Data.

For foreign agricultural, labor, and education statistics, the outstanding sources are publications of specialized agencies of the United Nations, such as the Production Yearbook issued by the Food and Agriculture Organization, the Yearbook of Labour Statistics issued by the International Labour Office, and the Statistical Yearbook issued by the Educational, Scientific, and Cultural Organization. The International Population Statistics Reports, series P–90 and P–91, issued by the Bureau of the Census, also present population figures for many foreign countries.

Statistical coverage and country names.—Problems of space and availability of data limit the number of countries and the extent of statistical coverage shown here. The list of countries included is based on, but not limited to, the membership rosters of the United Nations and of the larger specialized agencies of the United Nations (see table 1350). In a few instances, member countries were omitted because of an almost complete lack of data.

Country names are generally shown here as specified in the source publications cited. In two instances, the form of presentation differs from that of the source, the United Nations Statistical Yearbook. "China" in the Yearbook is identified here as the "People's Republic of China" and "China (Taiwan)" respectively, and "United Republic of Tanzania" is identified here as "Tanzania".

Economic associations.—The Organisation for European Economic Co-operation (OEEC), a regional grouping of Western European countries established in 1948 for the purpose of harmonizing national economic policies and conditions, was succeeded on September 30, 1961, by the Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development (OECD). The OECD consists of the member nations of the former OEEC—Austria, Belgium, Denmark, France, Germany (Federal Republic), Greece, Iceland, Ireland, Italy, Luxembourg, the Netherlands, Norway, Portugal, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland, Turkey, and the United Kingdom—and also Finland, Canada, the United States, Japan, and Australia, plus Yugoslavia and New Zealand in special status categories.

The European Economic Communities (EEC), or "Common Market," consists of Belgium, France, Germany (Federal Republic), Italy, Luxembourg, the Netherlands, and as of January 1, 1973, Denmark, Ireland, and the United Kingdom. The EEC was formed in 1958 as the European Economic Community for the purpose of promoting European economic integration. It is based on agreement among the member nations to stimulate their economic growth, primarily through the gradual elimination of trade barriers among themselves, the establishment of a common external tariff, the coordination of monetary, fiscal, and agricultural policies, and the removal of restrictions on movement of services, labor, capital, and business enterprises within the community.

The European Free Trade Association (EFTA), established in late 1959, consists of Austria, Finland, Iceland, Norway, Portugal, Sweden, Switzerland and, prior to 1973, Denmark and the United Kingdom. It represents an agreement among the member nations to promote free trade and economic cooperation in Europe through gradual elimination of tariffs and quotas among themselves but without establishment of a common external tariff.

Quality and comparability of the data.—The quality and the comparability of the data presented here are affected by a number of factors:

(1) The year for which data are presented may not be the same for all subjects for a particular country, or for a given subject for different countries, though the data shown are the most recent available. All such variations have been noted. The data shown are for calendar years except as otherwise stated in headnotes or footnotes. Space considerations made it impracticable to present the data for a series of years except for a limited number of subjects.

(2) The bases, methods of estimating, methods of data collection, extent of coverage, precision of definition, scope of territory, and margins of error may vary for different items within a particular country, and for like items for different countries. Footnotes and headnotes to the tables give a few of the major time-period and coverage qualifications attached to the figures; considerably more detail is presented in the source publications. Many of the measures shown are, at best, merely rough indicators of magnitude.

(3) Figures shown in this section for the United States may not always agree with figures shown in the preceding sections. Disagreements may be attributable to the use of differing original sources, a difference in the definition of geographic limits (the 50 States, conterminous United States only, or the United States including certain outlying areas and possessions), or to possible adjustments made in the United States figures by the United Nations in order to improve their comparability with figures from other countries.

Conversion factors.—To facilitate comparison in terms of familiar units, items shown in metric units in the source have been converted to U.S. equivalents by means of the abbreviated conversion factors shown below. Additional conversion factors appear in Appendix I, Weights and Measures, pages 917 and 918.

CONVERSION FACTORS

Metric units	U.S. equivalents
1 kilometer	0.6214 mile
1 square kilometer	0.3861 sq. mile
1 kilogram	2.2046 pounds
1 metric ton (1,000 kilograms)	1.1023 short tons
1 metric ton-kilometer	0.6849 short ton-mile
1 hectolitre	26.4172 U.S. gallons
1 cubic meter	35.3147 cubic feet

No. 1322. Population and Area, by Country

[Population data generally are present-in-area estimates for the present territory. For some countries, however, estimates include national armed forces and diplomats stationed outside the country and exclude alien armed forces, foreign diplomats, and enemy prisoners of war stationed within the country. Except as noted, area data include inland waters. See text, p. 800, for general comments concerning the data. For details of methodology, coverage, and reliability, see source]

No. 1325. Housing and Health, by Country

[Housing: Data generally intended to refer to conventional (permanent) dwellings only. For some countries, however, data include nonpermanent structures, improvised shelters, and mobile trailers, or, as noted, refer to housing units and to household accommodation (the space occupied by a private household) rather than to dwellings. Health: Hospital data refer to hospitals and other medical establishments with beds but exclude old people's homes and establishments for custodial or preventive care only; personnel data refer to persons fully qualified from medical or dental schools and working within the country. See text, p. 800, for general comments concerning the data. For additional qualifications of data for individual countries, see source]

No. 1328. Average Annual Rates of Growth of Gross Domestic Product, by Kind of Economic Activity

[In percent. Based on gross domestic product at constant prices. Methods used to obtain estimates of gross domestic product at constant prices and the years to which these prices relate vary widely among countries. In general, "Agriculture" includes forestry, hunting, and fishing; "Industrial activity" covers mining, manufacturing, electricity, gas, and water; and "Other" comprises financing insurance, real estate, and business services; community, social and personal services and public administration and defense. Unless otherwise stated, data are calculated on the former System of National Accounts (see Yearbook of National Accounts Statistics, 1969)]

NA Not available. [1] Generally, data are for a specific date in the 1960's; for Mexico and U.S.S.R., 1970. Includes unemployed. [2] Comprises utilities generating primarily for public use. Relates to production at generating centers, including station use and transmission losses. [3] Based on apparent consumption of coal, lignite, petroleum products, natural gas, and hydro and nuclear electricity. [4] Production of manufactured goods, including assembly of component parts and, except in the case of consumer goods, repair services. Excludes gas manufacture and electricity. For 1970, except as noted.

[5] Coverage varies widely. For most countries, refers to single plants or factories with more than a specified number of employees, as noted. For additional or alternative qualifications, see source. [6] Comprises average number of employees, working proprietors, and unpaid family workers, except as noted.

[7] Covers merchandise including silver (except current coin); excludes gold and issued paper currency. Imports generally valued c.i.f.; exports, f.o.b. Generally includes government trade (including foreign aid, war reparations, and military goods), trade of foreign concessionaires, and postal trade. See source for "general trade" or "special trade" distinctions. Roughly half the countries shown fall into each category, thus affecting comparability.

[8] Excludes trade of People's Republic of China, Mongolia, Democratic People's Republic of Korea, and Democratic People's Republic of Vietnam with one another.

[9] Excludes inter-trade between German Democratic Republic and Federal Republic of Germany.

[10] Imports and exports include Puerto Rico. [11] Net production (excluding station use).

[12] Source: 1967 Census of Manufactures. [13] Establishments with 1 or more employees.

[1] Refers to calendar year in which all or most of the harvest took place, generally 1971. All commodities index relates to food, fibers, tobacco, industrial oilseeds, rubber, tea, and coffee; food index relates to crops and livestock products for human consumption. Deduction made for feed and seed used in production process.

[2] Components of these indexes vary considerably among countries; for details, see source.

[3] Refers, in general, to salaried employees and wage earners in manufacturing. Includes workers on holiday or vacation; excludes employers, self-employed, and workers on strike, on temporary military leave, or temporarily laid off.

[4] In many instances, represents index only for principal city (or cities) of particular country.

[5] General wholesale price index numbers usually weighted by gross value of sales on wholesale markets.

[6] As of 3d quarter of 1972, except as noted. Indexes based primarily on common shares traded on leading exchange. In some cases, where an index of industrial shares is not available, a general index, including shares of companies in transportation, distribution, and finance fields, is reported.

[7] For year beginning July 1. [8] Basic materials.

[9] For 1969. [10] 2d quarter. [11] For year ending June 30.

[12] Includes mining and quarrying; for German Dem. Republic, mining only. [13] 1964=100.

[14] General index. [15] Luxembourg included with Belgium. [16] Data for 1 month. [17] For 1966.

[18] For 1970. [19] Wage earners only. [20] 4th quarter 1971. [21] For 1967. [22] 1967=100.

[23] 1969=100. [24] For 1968. [25] 1965=100. [26] Civilian labor force employed.

[27] July 1966–June 1967=100. [28] July 1965–June 1966=100. [29] Area of San Salvador.

[30] Guatemala City only. [31] 1966=100. [32] 1960=100. [33] 4th quarter. [34] For year beginning Mar. 21.

[35] 21 March 1963–March 1964=100. [36] Includes working proprietors. [37] 1970=100.

[38] Covers commercial retail and wholesale establishments. [39] For year beginning Apr. 1.

[40] Includes data for Bangladesh. [41] July 1962–June 1963=100. [42] Farm products only.

[43] Includes sea fishing. [44] For year ending before July 1, 1971. [45] 1968=100.

[46] Excludes printing and publishing. [47] None or negligible quantity. [48] Average of less than 12 months.

[1] Excludes lignite and brown coal, except as noted.
[2] Source presents data in metric tons. Conversion to barrels allows for differences in specific gravity of petroleum. Figures refer to crude petroleum including shale oil, but excluding natural gasoline.
[3] Covers, as far as possible, all hydraulic cements used for construction (portland, metallurgic, aluminous, natural, etc.).
[4] Refers generally to iron content of marketable ores mined, including manganiferous iron ores but excluding pyrites. Some data are rough estimates obtained by applying a fixed percentage to figures for crude ore production.
[5] Data expressed in terms of pure (monohydrate) sulfuric acid and include sulfuric acid equivalent of oleum or "fuming" acid.
[6] Total production of crude steel, both ingots and steel for castings. Excludes wrought (puddled) iron.
[7] Data represent apparent consumption (i.e., production plus imports minus exports) and do not take into account changes in stocks. [8] Excludes manganiferous iron ores containing 5 percent or more of manganese.
[9] Excludes steel for castings made in foundries operated by companies not producing ingots.
[10] For 1970. [11] For 1968. [12] Year ending June 30. [13] For 1967.
[14] Luxembourg included with Belgium. [15] For 1969.
[16] Represents about 90 percent of the total national output. [17] Excludes alloy steels.
[18] Shipment from mines. [19] Strength of acid not reported. [20] Ingots only. [21] Includes lignite.
[22] Includes regenerated sulfuric acid. [23] Year beginning in March. [24] Includes brown coal.
[25] Includes iron content of iron sand and pyrites. [26] Sarawak only. [27] West Malaysia only.
[28] Svalbard; Norwegian-operated mines only. [29] Year beginning July 1. [30] For 1966.
[31] Includes iron content of iron pyrites. [32] 1963–67 average.
[33] Includes gas condensates. [34] Great Britain only. Excludes production at quarries.

*For 1971. NA Not available.

[1] As of June 30. Represents gross registered tons (see text, p. 564) for vessels of 100 gross tons and over. Excludes vessels without mechanical means of propulsion; includes sailing vessels with auxiliary power. Excludes ships trading on Caspian Sea.

[2] In general, represents sum of net registered tonnages (see text, p. 564) of seagoing foreign and domestic merchant vessels (power and sailing) entered with cargo from a foreign port and refers to only one entrance for each foreign voyage. Except as noted, excludes vessels "in ballast," i.e., entering without unloading goods.

[3] Represents weight of all goods (including their packing) in external trade loaded to and unloaded from seagoing vessels of all flags at ports of country specified. For most countries, excludes bunkers, ships stores, ballast, and transshipment (goods transshipped from an importing vessel to an exporting vessel).

[4] Relates to domestic and international traffic on all railway lines within each country shown, excluding railways entirely within an urban unit and plantation, industrial mining, funicular and cable railways. In general, passenger miles include all passengers except military, government, and railway personnel when carried without revenue; ton-miles relate to freight net ton-miles and include all goods whether carried by fast or ordinary trains except service traffic, mail, baggage, and nonrevenue governmental stores.

[5] Covers both domestic and international scheduled services operated by companies registered in each country. Includes supplementary services occasioned by overflow traffic on regularly scheduled trips and preparatory flights for new scheduled services.

[6] Represents officially estimated number of vehicles in use. Includes passenger cars and commercial vehicles. For most countries shown, excludes 2- and 3-wheeled cycles and motorcycles, trams, trolley buses, ambulances, hearses, military vehicles, police and special purpose or government security vehicles, trailers, and farm tractors.

[7] Includes Great Lakes. [8] After time adjustment, loaded approximately same as unloaded. [9] Excludes People's Republic of China, U.S.S.R. (which became a member of ICAO on Nov. 14, 1970), and other nonmembers of International Civil Aviation Organization as of Dec. 31, 1970.

[10] Excludes People's Republic of China; Democratic Republic of Vietnam and Democratic People's Republic of Korea.

[11] Includes Great Lakes international traffic. [12] Includes vessels in ballast. [13] For 1970.
[14] Year ending June 30. [15] For 1968. [16] All entrances counted. [17] Includes service traffic.
[18] Year ending Sept. 30. [19] Including Great Lakes and St. Lawrence international traffic. [20] For 1953
[21] For 1969. [22] Year beginning Apr. 1. [23] Includes Faeroe Islands. [24] For 1967.
[25] Commercial vehicles only. [26] Passenger cars only. [27] Year beginning Mar. 21.
[28] For 1964. [29] Includes Bangladesh. [30] Year beginning July 1. [31] Buses and trucks only.
[32] Includes data for Namibia. [33] Excludes Northern Ireland.

[1] Excludes gold used in payment of a country's subscriptions to International Monetary Fund or International Bank for Reconstruction and Development. Reported in U.S. dollars at $38 per ounce.

[2] Foreign exchange holdings ordinarily include foreign currencies, bank deposits abroad, payment and clearing agreement balances, and short-term foreign bills and securities (generally those with an original maturity of 1 year or less) and, in those instances where information is available, foreign investments held by official institutions. Excludes subscriptions to International Monetary Fund, drawing rights in the European Payments Union or the European Fund, undrawn portions of foreign loans, and similar rights to incur foreign debts. Holdings have been converted into U.S. dollar equivalents at par value or, in absence of a par value, at official exchange rate.

Section 33

Statistics for Federal Administrative Regions and States

This section presents statistics for the ten standard Federal administrative regions (SFAR's) and their component States as officially designated by the U.S. Office of Management and Budget (Circular No. A-46, Transmittal Memorandum No. 16, August 1972).

In a directive issued in 1969, President Nixon instructed various Federal agencies (among them the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, the Department of Labor, the Office of Economic Opportunity, and the Small Business Administration) to adopt a uniform field system of ten geographic regions with common boundaries and headquarters cities. The President's action was taken to correct the development over a period of many years of a fragmentation of Federal field organization structures, as each agency or component evolved along its own lines with little reference to other agency arrangements. As a result of the President's directive, most Federal domestic agencies or their components have completed realignments and relocations to conform to the SFAR's shown here.

In February 1972, President Nixon issued Executive Order 11647 establishing a Federal Regional Council for each of the SFAR's in further implementation of "the development of closer working relationships between major Federal grant making agencies and State and local governments and improved coordination of the categorical grant system."

Reprints of this section of the Statistical Abstract and section 34, Metropolitan Area Statistics, may be obtained under the title of "Statistics for Federal Regions, States, and Metropolitan Areas" from the Superintendent of Documents, Washington, D.C., 20402, or from any U.S. Department of Commerce District Office. The price per copy is 85 cents; a 25 percent discount is allowed on orders of 100 copies or more sent to the same address.

Metropolitan Area Statistics

Statistics from various Federal Government and private sources are presented here for areas officially designated by the U.S. Office of Management and Budget as standard metropolitan statistical areas (SMSA's). Definitions of the SMSA's in terms of their geographic components are presented in U.S. Bureau of the Budget (predecessor of the Office of Management and Budget), Standard Metropolitan Statistical Areas, issued in 1967, with subsequent amendments. See also U.S. National Bureau of Standards, Metropolitan Statistical Areas, Federal Information Processing Standards Publication (FIPS Pub. 8) June 9, 1969.

Data shown here are based on the SMSA definitions as amended by the Office of Management and Budget on April 27, 1973. As of July 1, 1973, there were 267 SMSA's (including 4 in Puerto Rico). Area titles and county components are shown on pages 912–916.

Data are presented here only for the 157 SMSA's having 200,000 or more inhabitants in 1970, excluding San Juan, Puerto Rico. A total of 200 items is shown for each SMSA. Many of the source publications cited also present statistics for the smaller SMSA's.

For New England, data are shown for both metropolitan State economic areas (SEA's) and SMSA's wherever it was possible to do so. SEA's consist of single counties or groups of counties; SMSA's in New England, of towns and cities.

Standard definitions of metropolitan statistical areas were first issued by the then Bureau of the Budget in 1949. Generally conceived, a metropolitan area is an integrated economic and social unit with a large population nucleus. Each SMSA contains at least:

(a) One central city with 50,000 inhabitants or more, or

(b) A city having a population of at least 25,000 which, together with the population of contiguous places (incorporated or unincorporated) having a population density of at least 1,000 persons per square mile, constitutes for general economic and social purposes a single community with a combined population of at least 50,000; provided that the county (or counties) in which the city and contiguous places are located has a total population of at least 75,000. (In New England, the cities and towns qualifying for inclusion in an SMSA must have a combined population of at least 75,000.)

The SMSA includes the county in which the central city is located, and adjacent counties that are found to be metropolitan in character and economically and socially integrated with the county of the central city. In New England, the requirement with regard to a central city as a nucleus still holds, but, as noted above, the units comprising the area are cities and towns rather than counties. The county (or town in New England) is the basic statistical unit. An SMSA may contain more than one city of 50,000 (or 25,000) inhabitants. The largest city is always included in the title of the area; however, the title may include the names of one or two additional cities. An SMSA may cross State lines.

Reprints of this section and section 33 of the Statistical Abstract may be obtained under the title of "Statistics for Federal Regions, States, and Metropolitan Areas" from the Superintendent of Documents, Washington, D.C. 20402, or from any U.S. Department of Commerce Field Office. The price per copy is 85 cents; a 25 percent discount is allowed on orders of 100 copies or more sent to the same address.
