Section 9

Elections

This section relates primarily to Presidential, congressional, and gubernatorial elections. Also presented are summary tables on congressional legislation, State legislatures, Black, Hispanic, and female officeholders, population of voting age, voter participation, and campaign finances.

Official statistics on Federal elections, collected by the Clerk of the House, are published biennially in Statistics of the Presidential and Congressional Election and Statistics of the Congressional Election. Federal and State elections data appear also in America Votes, a biennial volume of the Elections Research Center, Washington, DC. Federal elections data also appear in the U.S. Congress, Congressional Directory, and in official State documents. Data on reported registration and voting are obtained by the U.S. Bureau of the Census as part of the Current Population Survey (CPS) and are published in Current Population Reports, series P-20 (see text, pp. 1 and 2).

Almost all Federal, State, and local governmental units in the United States conduct elections at various intervals for different offices and other purposes. The conduct of elections is regulated by State laws or, in some cities and counties, by local charter. An exception is that the U.S. Constitution prescribes the basis of representation in Congress and the manner of electing the President, and grants to Congress the right to regulate the times, places, and manner of electing Federal officers. Amendments to the Constitution have prescribed national criteria for voting eligibility. The 15th Amendment, adopted in 1870, gave all citizens the right to vote regardless of race, color, or previous condition of servitude. The 19th Amendment, adopted in 1919, further extended the right to vote to all citizens regardless of sex. The payment of poll taxes as a prerequisite to voting in Federal elections was banned by the 24th Amendment in 1964. In 1971, as a result of the 26th Amendment, eligibility to vote in national elections was extended to all citizens, 18 years old and over.

Presidential election.—The Constitution specifies how the President and Vice President are selected. Each State elects, by popular vote, a group of electors equal in number to its total of members of Congress. Subsequent to the election, the electors meet in their respective States to vote for President and Vice President. Usually, each elector votes for the candidate receiving the most popular votes in his or her State. A majority vote of all electors is necessary to elect the President and Vice President. If no candidate receives a majority, the House of Representatives, with each State having one vote, is empowered to elect the President and Vice President, again, with a majority of votes required.

The 22d Amendment to the Constitution, adopted in 1951, limits presidential tenure to 2 elective terms of 4 years each, or to 1 elective term for any person who, upon succession to the Presidency, has held the office or acted as President for more than 2 years. The 23d Amendment, adopted in 1961, grants the District of Columbia 3 presidential electors, a number equal to that of the least populous State.

Congressional election.—The Constitution provides that Representatives be apportioned among the States according to their population; that a census of population be taken every 10 years as a basis for apportionment; and that each State have at least 1 Representative. At the time of each apportionment, Congress decides what the total number of Representatives will be. Since 1912, the total has been 435, except during 1960 to 1962 when it increased to 437, adding 1 Representative each for Alaska and Hawaii. The total reverted to 435 after reapportionment following the 1960 census. Members are elected for 2-year terms, all terms covering the same period. The District of Columbia, American Samoa, Guam, and the Virgin Islands each elect one nonvoting Delegate and Puerto Rico elects a nonvoting Resident Commissioner.

The Senate is composed of 100 members, 2 from each State, who are elected to serve for a term of 6 years. One-third of the Senate is elected every 2 years. Senators were originally chosen by the State legislatures. The 17th Amendment to the Constitution, adopted in 1913, prescribed that Senators be elected by popular vote.

Voter eligibility and participation.—The Census Bureau publishes estimates of the population of voting age and the percent casting votes in each State for Presidential and congressional election years. Voting-age population estimates include a number of persons who meet the age requirement but are not eligible to vote (for example, aliens and institutionalized persons). Since 1964, voter participation and voter characteristics data have been collected during November of election years as part of the CPS.

Statistical reliability.—For a discussion of statistical collection and estimation, sampling procedures, and measures of statistical reliability applicable to Census Bureau data, see Appendix III.

No. 405. Apportionment of Membership in House of Representatives, by State: 1790 to 1980

[Total membership includes Representatives assigned to newly admitted States after the apportionment acts. Population figures used for apportionment purposes are those determined for States by each decennial census. No reapportionment based on 1920 population census. For method of calculating apportionment and a short history of apportionment, see House Report 91-1314, 91st Congress, 2d session, The Decennial Population Census and Congressional Apportionment. For composition of regions, see fig. I, inside front cover. See also Historical Statistics, Colonial Times to 1970, series Y 220-271]

No. 406. Vote Cast for United States Representatives, by Major Political Parties—States: 1978 to 1982

[In thousands, except percent. In each State, totals represent the sum of votes cast in each Congressional District or votes cast for Representative at Large in States where only one member is elected. In all years there are numerous districts within the State where either the Republican or Democratic party had no candidate. In some States the Republican and Democratic vote includes votes cast for the party candidate by endorsing parties. See also Historical Statistics, Colonial Times to 1970, series Y 211-214]

No. 427. Participation in National Elections, 1964 to 1982, and by Population Characteristics, 1982

[As of November. Covers civilian noninstitutional population 18 years old and over, except 1964–1970, 21 years old and over (see also footnote 1, table 421). Includes aliens. Figures are based on Current Population Survey (see text, p. 2, and Appendix III) and differ from those in tables 421 and 425 based on population estimates and official vote counts. Differences in percentages may also be due to overreporting of voting (reluctance of some persons in the sample who actually did not vote to so report)]

Section 10

State and Local Government Finances and Employment

This section presents data on revenues, expenditures, debt, gross assessed value of property, and government employment within State and local governments. Nationwide statistics relating to State and local governments, their numbers, finances, and employment, are compiled primarily by the Bureau of the Census through a program of censuses and surveys. Every fifth year (for years ending in "2" and "7") the Bureau conducts a Census of Governments involving collection of data for all governmental units in the United States. In addition, the Bureau conducts annual surveys which cover all the State governments and a sample of local governments.

Publications issued annually by the Bureau of the Census include a report on governmental finances which presents figures for the Federal government, nationwide totals for State and local governments, by type, and State-local data by States. Also issued annually are a series of publications on State, city, county, and school finances, and on city, county, and other public employment. Financial data are published in the GF publication series; employment data in the GE series. There are also a series of quarterly reports covering tax revenue, and finances of major public employee retirement systems, as well as a series (GSS) of special studies. Recurrent Publications on Governments describes the publication program.

Basic information for Census Bureau statistics on governments is obtained mainly by mail canvass from State and local officials; however, financial data for each of the State governments and for many of the large local governments are compiled from their official records and reports by Census Bureau personnel. Financial data on the Federal Government are obtained by the Bureau from the Office of Management and Budget and are published in the Budget (see page 301).

Governmental units.—The governmental structure of the United States includes, in addition to the Federal Government and the States, thousands of local governments—counties, municipalities, townships, school districts, and numerous kinds of "special districts." As shown by table 433, almost 82,300 local governments were identified by the 1982 Census of Governments. As defined by the census, governmental units include all agencies or bodies having an organized existence, governmental character, and substantial autonomy. While most of these governments can impose taxes, many of the special districts—such as independent public housing authorities, the New York Port Authority, and numerous local irrigation, power, and other types of districts—are financed from rentals, charges for services, benefit assessments, grants from other governments, toll charges, and other nontax sources. The count of governments excludes semi-autonomous agencies through which States, cities, and counties sometimes provide for certain functions—for example, "dependent" school systems, State institutions of higher education, and certain other "authorities" and special agencies which are under the administrative or fiscal control of an established governmental unit.

Finances.—Unless otherwise stated, financial data relate to fiscal years. Most States end their fiscal year June 30; however Alabama and Michigan end their fiscal years Sept. 30, New York, March 31, and Texas, Aug. 31. Washington, DC also ends its fiscal year Sept 30. This was also the practice of the Federal Government until 1976 when its fiscal year, by an act of Congress, was revised to extend from Oct. 1 to Sept. 30. A three-month quarter (July 1 to Sept. 30, 1976) bridged the transition. Beginning 1963, local government figures are for fiscal years which close at various dates during the 12 months ended June 30 of the year specified; figures for 1962 and earlier years are for fiscal years ended during the calendar year.

Nationwide government finance statistics have been classified and presented in terms of uniform concepts and categories, rather than according to the highly diverse terminology, organization, and fund structure utilized by individual governments. Accordingly, financial statistics which appear here for the Federal Government and for individual States or local governments have been standardized and may not agree directly with figures appearing in the original sources.

Statistics on governmental finances distinguish among general government, utilities, liquor stores, and insurance trusts. General government comprises all activities except utilities, liquor stores, and insurance trusts. Utilities include government water supply, electric light and power, gas supply, and transit systems. Liquor stores are operated by 17 States and by local governments in four States. Insurance trusts relate to employee retirement, unemployment compensation, and other social insurance systems administered by State and local governments.

Data for cities relate only to municipal corporations and their dependent agencies, and do not include amounts for other local governments overlying city areas. Therefore, expenditure figures for "education" do not include spending by the separate school districts which administer public schools within most municipal areas. Variations in the assignment of governmental responsibility for public assistance, health, hospitals, public housing, and other functions to a lesser degree also have an important effect upon reported amounts of city expenditure, revenue, and debt. Therefore, any intercity comparisons based upon these figures should be made with caution, and with due recognition of variations that exist among urban areas in the relative role of the municipal corporation.

Employment and payrolls.—These data are based mainly on mail canvassing of State and local governments. Payroll includes all salaries, wages, and individual fee payments for the month specified, and employment relates to all persons on governmental payrolls during a pay period of the month covered—including paid officials, temporary help, and (unless otherwise specified) part-time as well as full-time personnel. Figures shown for individual governments cover major dependent agencies such as institutions of higher education, as well as the basic central departments and agencies of the government.

Statistical reliability.—For a discussion of statistical collection and estimation, sampling procedures, and measures of statistical reliability applicable to Census Bureau data, see Appendix III.

Historical statistics.—Tabular headnotes provide cross-references, where applicable, to Historical Statistics of the United States, Colonial Times to 1970. See Appendix I.

[1] Data adjusted to system for reporting State and local data and therefore differ from figures in Section 11 tables.
[2] Represents average for period of intervals shown; for 1950, change from 1948. For explanation, see Guide to Tabular Presentation. Minus sign (–) indicates decrease.
[3] Based on estimated population as of July 1; except 1970 based on resident population enumerated as of April 1, 1970 and 1980 to 1982 based on resident population enumerated as of April 1, 1980. Includes Armed Forces abroad through 1955; thereafter, resident population. Excludes intergovernmental amounts.

No. 455. State General Operating Fund Resources and Expenditures: 1983 to 1985

[In millions of dollars, except percent. Fiscal year data. General operating funds exclude special funds earmarked for particular purposes, such as highway trust funds; they support most on-going broad-based State services, as opposed to long-term State capital projects and are available for appropriation to support any governmental activity. Minus sign (–) indicates deficit. For composition of regions see fig. I, inside front cover]

X Not applicable. [1] The lesser of either a) the percentage indicated, multiplied by adjusted gross income or b) the dollar value listed. [2] A State provision that allows the taxpayer to deduct fully the Federal income tax payment reduces the effective marginal tax rate for persons in the highest State and Federal tax brackets by approximately one-half the nominal tax rate—the deduction is of a lesser benefit to other taxpayers. [3] States in which one or more local governments levy a local income tax. [4] Indexed by an inflation factor. Colorado, Iowa, and Wisconsin have suspended indexing through at least 1984. Oregon and South Carolina are scheduled to begin indexing in 1984. [5] Tax credit. [6] There is an income tax on interest and dividend income only. The rate of this tax ranges from 6% of interest and dividend income for taxpayers with an AGI of $50,000–$59,999 to 13% of such income of taxpayers with an AGI over $100,000. Capital gains are taxed at 7% after an exemption of $100 is applied. [7] Federal income tax deduction limited to $300 ($600 married). [8] A minimum standard deduction exists. In instances where the percentage standard deduction is less than the minimum, the minimum deduction amount should be taken. [9] Tax cannot reduce after-tax income of taxpayer to below $5,000. [10] Rate includes a 7.5% surcharge which has been in effect since 1976. 10% (flat rate) imposed on net gains, interest and dividends. Tax cannot reduce after-tax income to below $3,000 ($5,000 married couple). [11] Exemption is the smaller of $4,400 or $3,000 plus the income of the spouse having the smaller earned income. [12] The rate will drop to 5.35 in January 1985.
[13] There is a 5% tax on dividend and interest income (excluding income from savings bank deposits) in excess of $1,200 ($2,400, married.) [14] No taxpayer is subject to tax if gross income is $3,000 or less ($1,500 married, filing separately). [15] No tax due from individuals with an adjusted gross income of $2,500 or less, or married head of household, or surviving spouse of $5,000 or less. [16] An additional exemption of $1,100 is allowed the spouse with the smallest income. Joint returns not allowed. [17] An additional $550 is allowed a married woman with separate income. Joint returns are not allowed. [18] Taxpayers have the option of paying a tax of 10.5% of the taxpayers adjusted Federal income tax liability. [19] Taxpayers may choose between a $1,000 personal income exemption for each exemption, or a $650 personal exemption plus a $20 tax credit for each exemption. [20] These tax rates and brackets apply to single persons not deducting Federal income tax. For individuals deducting Federal income tax, rates range from .5% of the first $1,000 to 17% on income over $49,000. [21] Federal tax deduction limited to $7,000 ($3,500 married, filing separately). [22] Federal tax deduction limited to $500. [23] Interest and dividends taxed at 6%; dividends from Tennessee corporations taxed at 4%. [24] A 12% surcharge on the tax liability for taxpayers with taxable income over $10,000 levied until July 1985.

No. 466. City Governments—Summary of Finances: 1970 to 1982

[In millions of dollars, except percent. Represents all municipalities (see table 461) and their dependent agencies (including dependent school systems where applicable); excludes other local governments overlying city areas. See text, p. 260. Includes sample-based estimates for cities of less than 50,000; thus subject to sampling variation. See Appendix III and source]

No. 467. City Governments—Per Capita Amounts For Selected Financial Items for Largest Cities: 1970 to 1982

[Cities ranked by size of population enumerated as of April 1, 1980, except Honolulu ranked by county population. General expenditure, taxes, and indebtedness data reflect inclusion of fiscal activity of dependent school systems, where applicable. Intercity comparisons should be made with caution due to variations in responsibilities among urban areas; for details, see text, p. 260, and source. 1970 and 1982 data based on resident population enumerated as of April 1, 1970 and 1980, respectively; 1975 data based on resident population estimated as of July 1, 1976]

Section 11

Federal Government Finances and Employment

This section presents statistics relating to the financial structure and the civilian employment of the Federal Government. The fiscal data cover taxes, other receipts, outlays, and debt. The principal sources of fiscal data are The Budget of the United States Government and related documents, published annually by the Office of Management and Budget (OMB), and the Department of the Treasury's annual Treasury Combined Statement of Receipts, Expenditures, and Balances of the United States Government, the official report relating to the receipts, appropriations, outlays, and fund accounts. Detailed data on tax returns and collections are published annually by the Internal Revenue Service. The personnel data relate to staffing and payrolls for the various public functions and agencies, to employee characteristics, and to civil service status; they are published by the Office of Personnel Management (formerly Civil Service Commission) and the Bureau of Labor Statistics (see p. 302). The primary source for data on public lands is Public Land Statistics, published annually by the Bureau of Land Management, Department of the Interior. Data on federally owned land and real property are collected by the General Services Administration and presented in its annual Inventory Report on Real Property Owned by the United States Throughout the World.

Budget concept.—Under the unified budget concept, all Federal monies are included in one comprehensive budget. These monies comprise both Federal funds and trust funds. Federal funds are derived mainly from taxes and borrowing and are not restricted by law to any specific government purpose. Trust funds, such as the Unemployment Trust Fund, collect certain taxes and other receipts for use in carrying out specific purposes or programs in accordance with the terms of the trust agreement or statute. Fund balances include both cash balances with Treasury and investments in U.S. securities. Part of the balance is obligated, part unobligated. In recent years, however, the budget totals, under provisions of law, have excluded some Federal activities—including the Federal Financing Bank, the Postal Service, the Synthetic Fuels Corporation, and the lending activities of the Rural Electrification Administration. For fiscal year 1984, these activities (i.e., off-budget Federal entities; see below) are estimated to equal 1.9 percent of the unified budget. Data showing unified budget totals of budget receipts and outlays are presented in the 1985 Budget for the years 1940 to 1989; more detailed tables generally show data since 1973.

Receipts arising from the Government's sovereign powers are reported as governmental receipts; all other receipts, i.e., from business-type or market-oriented activities, are offset against outlays. Outlays are reported on a checks-issued (net) basis (i.e., outlays are recorded at the time the checks to pay bills are issued).

Debt concept.—For most of U.S. history, the total debt consisted of debt borrowed by the Treasury (i.e., public debt). The present debt series, includes both public debt and agency debt. The gross Federal debt includes money borrowed by the Treasury and by various Federal agencies; it is the broadest generally used measure of the Federal debt. Total public debt is covered by a statutory debt limitation, currently $1,290.2 billion, and includes only borrowing by the Treasury.

Off-budget Federal entities.—Off-budget Federal entities are federally owned and controlled, but their transactions are excluded from the budget totals under provisions of law. Therefore, their fiscal activities are not reflected in either budget outlays or the budget surplus or deficit; appropriation requests for their programs are not included in the totals of budget authority for the budget; and their outlays are not subject to the ceilings set by the congressional budget resolutions. The surplus or deficit of the off-budget Federal entities is added to the budget surplus or deficit to arrive at the "total Federal Government surplus or deficit", which is financed by borrowing from the public or by other means. When off-budget outlays are financed by Treasury borrowing, the additional debt is subject to statutory debt limitation; when financed by the entities' own borrowing, it is not. In either case, the additional debt is part of the gross Federal debt.

Treasury receipts and outlays.—All receipts of the Government, with a few exceptions, are deposited to the credit of the U.S. Treasury regardless of ultimate disposition. Under the Constitution, no money may be withdrawn from the Treasury unless appropriated by the Congress.

The day-to-day cash operations of the Federal Government clearing through the accounts of the U.S. Treasury are reported in the Daily Treasury Statement. Extensive detail on the public debt is published in the Monthly Statement of the Public Debt of the United States.

Budget receipts such as taxes, customs duties, and miscellaneous receipts, which are collected by Government agencies, and outlays represented by checks issued and cash payments made by disbursing officers as well as government agencies are reported in the Monthly Treasury Statement of Receipts and Outlays of the United States Government and in the annual Treasury Combined Statement of Receipts, Expenditures, and Balances of the United States Government. These deposits in, and payments from, accounts maintained by Government agencies are on the same basis as the unified budget.

The quarterly Treasury Bulletin contains data on fiscal operations and related Treasury activities, including financial statements of Government corporations and other business-type activities.

Income tax returns and tax collections.—Tax data are compiled by the Internal Revenue Service of the Treasury Department. The Annual Report of the Commissioner of the Internal Revenue Service gives a detailed account of tax collections by kind of tax and by regions, districts, and States. The agency's four annual Statistics of Income reports present detailed data from individual income tax returns, corporation income tax returns, sole proprietorship returns and partnership returns, respectively. The quarterly Statistics of Income Bulletin has, in general, replaced the supplemental Statistics of Income publications which presented data on such diverse subjects as local area data for individuals as well as data from fiduciary income tax and estate tax returns, sales of capital assets by individuals, international income and taxes reported by corporations and individuals, and estate tax wealth.

Relation to national income accounts and GNP.—The Federal sector of the national income and product accounts focuses upon Federal transactions (comprising both Federal and trust funds) entering into national income, the gross national product, and other parts of the national economic accounts (see table 486). These accounts, however, include only receipts and outlays which directly affect the current flow of income and output, and therefore exclude such transactions as loans. Also, the Federal sector account records many taxes as they accrue, instead of as they are collected, and records most purchases at the time of delivery.

Employment and payrolls.—The Office of Personnel Management collects employment and payroll data from all departments and agencies of the Federal Government, except the Central Intelligence Agency and the National Security Agency. Employment figures represent the number of persons who occupied civilian positions at the end of the report month shown and who are paid for personal services rendered for the Federal Government, regardless of the nature of appointment or method of payment. Through December 1978, intermittent workers were counted if they performed any service during the reporting month.

Federal payrolls include all payments for personal services rendered during the report month and payments for accumulated annual leave of employees who separate from the service. Since most Federal employees are paid on a biweekly basis, the calendar month earnings are partially estimated on the basis of the number of work days in each month where payroll periods overlap.

Federal employment and payroll figures are published by the Office of Personnel Management in its Annual Report and its Monthly Release of Federal Civilian Workforce Statistics. It also publishes biennial employment data for minority groups, geographic distribution, and data on occupations of white- and blue-collar workers; reports on salary and wage distribution of Federal employees are published annually. General schedule is primarily white collar; wage system primarily blue collar. Data on Federal employment are also issued by the Bureau of Labor Statistics in its Monthly Labor Review and in Employment and Earnings and by the Bureau of the Census in its annual Public Employment.

Applications, entries, selections, patents, and certifications.—The data on applications, entries, selections, patents, and certifications refer to transactions which involve the disposal, under the public land laws (including the homestead laws), of Federal public lands to non-Federal owners. In general, original entries and selections are applications to secure title to public lands which have been accepted as properly filed (i.e., allowed). Some types of applications, however, are not reported until issuance of the final certificate, which passes equitable title to the land to the applicant. Applications are approved when full compliance with the requirements of the laws is shown and become final entries (perfected entries) upon issuance of a final certificate. Patents are Government deeds which pass legal title to the land to the applicant. Certifications are issued in lieu of patents in connection with certain State selections.

No. 508. Federal Individual Income Tax Returns with Adjusted Gross Income (AGI)—Summary: 1965 to 1982

[Includes Puerto Rico and Virgin Islands. Includes returns of resident aliens; based on a sample of unaudited returns as filed. Taxability or nontaxability is determined by presence or absence of income tax after credits and additional tax for tax preferences. Classification as "nontaxable" generally based on each return as originally filed and does not reflect subsequent changes (amended returns, audits, etc.). Adjusted gross income (AGI) is gross income less losses from all sources subject to tax reduced by legally permitted subtractions such as: Expenses of operating a business or trade, contributions to Individual Retirement Arrangements, moving expenses, etc. Data are not comparable for all years because of tax changes. See Statistics of Income, Individual Income Tax Returns publications for a detailed explanation. Based on sample of unaudited returns as filed; see Appendix III. See Historical Statistics, Colonial Times to 1970, series Y 393-411, for related data]

[1] Through 1970, excludes returns with no adjusted income; thereafter includes returns with no adjusted income. [2] Joint returns counted twice in computing percent. [3] 1965 and 1970, returns with adjusted gross income only. Beginning 1975, includes returns with adjusted gross income less deficit. [4] Exemptions: 1965, $600; 1970, $625; 1975–1978, $750; 1979–1982, $1,000. [5] Beginning 1975, includes returns with no adjusted income. [6] The zero bracket amount replaced the standard deduction in 1977. Prior to 1977, included returns with the standard deductions and returns with no deductions.

[7] Comprises sick pay exclusion (for 1977 changed to disability exclusion), moving expense, self-employed retirement deduction and, beginning 1975, payments to an individual retirement account, and forfeited interest penalty.

[8] Represents adjusted gross income minus exemptions and deductions. Beginning 1977, includes the "zero bracket" amount and therefore is not comparable to taxable income shown for earlier years. [9] Income tax after credits. Beginning 1970, includes additional tax for tax preferences. [10] Only taxable returns counted in computing percent or average.

[11] Beginning 1977, taxable income includes zero bracket amount, and therefore the percentage is not comparable to earlier years. [12] Dividends are included with interest. [13] Figures represent net income minus net loss. [14] After exclusions. [15] Taxable portion. [16] Small business corporation included with partnerships. [17] Included in other sources. [18] Includes primarily State income tax refunds, alimony received, unemployment compensation in adjusted gross income, and net sales of property other than capital assets. For 1981 and 1982, also includes farm rental income and windfall profit tax refunds less net adjustment for windfall profit tax withheld.

No. 512. Federal Individual Income Tax—Effective (Average) and Marginal Tax Rates, for Selected Income Groups: 1954 to 1984

[Refers to income after exclusions. Effective rate represents tax liability divided by stated income. The marginal tax rate is the percentage of the first additional dollar of income which would be paid in income tax. Computations assume the low income allowance, standard deduction, zero bracket amount, or itemized deductions equal to 10 percent of adjusted gross income, whichever is greatest. Excludes self-employment tax. See Historical Statistics, Colonial Times to 1970, series Y 412–439, for similar data based on net income]

– Represents zero. [1] See headnote, table 508. [2] Includes tax surcharge. [3] 1981 tax liability and tax rates are 98.75 percent of the 1980 rates. [4] Only one spouse is assumed to work. [5] Refundable earned income credit. [6] Amount of adjusted gross income equivalent to adjusted gross income in 1980 dollars was calculated by using the NIPA personal consumption expenditure deflator (1972=100). The values of the deflators are: 1960, 71.9; 1970, 92.5; 1975, 125.3; 1979, 162.3; 1980, 178.9; 1983, 213.6; and 1984, 221.8 (estimated).

[1] Consists of business receipts, taxable and nontaxable interest, rents, royalties, net gain from capital assets (as defined by law) and other property, dividends, and other taxable income. [2] Net income (less deficit) is a tax concept and therefore excludes wholly tax-exempt interest; includes constructive taxable income from related foreign corporations. [3] See footnote 4, table 518. [4] Tax liability is after deduction for foreign tax credit. Data are after investment credit; beginning 1973, after work incentive (WIN) credit; beginning 1976, after U.S. possessions tax credit; beginning 1977, after jobs credit; beginning 1980, after nonconventional source fuel and alcohol fuel credits and beginning 1981, after research credits. Includes tax from recomputing prior year investment credit; 1970 includes tax surcharge; thereafter, includes additional tax for tax preferences; 1973-1980 includes tax from recomputing prior-year work incentive (WIN) credit; and beginning 1981, includes personal holding company tax.
