CHAPTER VII.—MALES AND FEMALES IN SELECTED OCCUPATIONS.

INTRODUCTION.

The number of states and the number of cities of 100,000 inhabitants or more in continental United States is so large that it is impracticable to present for each of them, in separate tables, statistics distributing the gainful workers in each occupation in detail, first, by color or race, nativity, and parentage, and, second, by age periods. To save space, therefore, in this chapter, in the case of each occupation included, the statistics distributing the workers by color or race, nativity, and parentage, and those distributing them by age periods are presented in the same table; the color or race, nativity, and parentage classes have been confined to five, by combining the statistics for the Indians, Chinese, Japanese, and "all other"; and the age periods have been limited to six, by combining the years 10 to 17 and including "age unknown" with the period 25 to 44 years. In general, in each state and city, only the more important occupations have been selected for presentation, that is, those occupations of the 572 shown in Tables 15 and 19 of Chapter II which for that state or city are of most importance. Frequently, however, two or more closely allied occupations are combined; and frequently a main occupation group is shown, rather than the specific occupations which comprise it.

Since each of the tables of this chapter presents statistics relating both to the color or race, nativity, and parentage and to the age of the workers in the occupations included, and since Chapters III and IV, respectively, of this report are devoted to these two classes of occupation statistics, no summary tables are given here.

TABLE 1.—TOTAL MALES AND FEMALES 10 YEARS OF AGE AND OVER ENGAGED IN EACH SELECTED OCCUPATION, CLASSIFIED BY COLOR OR RACE, NATIVITY, AND PARENTAGE, AND AGE PERIODS, BY STATES: 1920.

[For a discussion of the figures for certain occupations of this table, see Ch. I, pp. 13-17. Table 15, Ch. II, shows for each state the number of males and females in each of 572 occupations.]

[1] Teamsters in agriculture, forestry, and the extraction of minerals are classified with the other workers in those industries, respectively; and drivers for bakeries and laundries are classified with deliverymen in trade.
[2] Many of the "Clerks in stores" probably are "Salesmen."
[3] Includes, also, managers and superintendents of retail stores.
[4] Includes only those resident in continental United States at the date of the enumeration.
[5] Probably includes some teachers in schools below collegiate rank.

[1] Teamsters in agriculture, forestry, and the extraction of minerals are classified with the other workers in those industries, respectively; and drivers for bakeries and laundries are classified with deliverymen in trade.
[2] Many of the "Clerks in stores" probably are "Salesmen."
[3] Includes, also, managers and superintendents of retail stores.
[4] Includes only those resident in continental United States at the date of the enumeration.

[1] Teamsters in agriculture, forestry, and the extraction of minerals are classified with the other workers in those industries, respectively; and drivers for bakeries and laundries are classified with deliverymen in trade.
[2] Many of the "Clerks in stores" probably are "Salesmen."
[3] Includes, also, managers and superintendents of retail stores.
[4] Includes only those resident in continental United States at the date of the enumeration.

[1] Teamsters in agriculture, forestry, and the extraction of minerals are classified with the other workers in those industries, respectively; and drivers for bakeries and laundries are classified with deliverymen in trade.
[2] Many of the "Clerks in stores" probably are "Salesmen."
[3] Includes, also, managers and superintendents of retail stores.

[1] Teamsters in agriculture, forestry, and the extraction of minerals are classified with the other workers in those industries, respectively; and drivers for bakeries and laundries are classified with deliverymen in trade.
[2] Many of the "Clerks in stores" probably are "Salesmen."
[3] Includes, also, managers and superintendents of retail stores.

[1] Teamsters in agriculture, forestry, and the extraction of minerals are classified with the other workers in those industries, respectively; and drivers for bakeries and laundries are classified with deliverymen in trade.
[2] Many of the "Clerks in stores" probably are "Salesmen."
[3] Includes, also, managers and superintendents of retail stores.
[4] Includes only those resident in continental United States at the date of the enumeration.
[5] Probably includes some teachers in schools below collegiate rank.

[1] Teamsters in agriculture, forestry, and the extraction of minerals are classified with the other workers in those industries, respectively; and drivers for bakeries and laundries are classified with deliverymen in trade.
[2] Many of the "Clerks in stores" probably are "Salesmen."
[3] Includes, also, managers and superintendents of retail stores.
[4] Probably includes some teachers in schools below collegiate rank."
