SOLDIERS AND WIDOWS.

By the terms of the act governing the Eleventh Census, provision was made for obtaining through the census enumerators a list of "the names, organizations, and length of service of those who had served in the army, navy, or marine corps of the United States in the war of the rebellion, and who are survivors at the time of said inquiry, and the widows of soldiers, sailors, and marines", a special schedule being provided for the purpose. After this information, which from the nature of the inquiry was necessarily more or less incomplete, had been collected and some work done toward its verification and completion, it was temporarily set aside, and subsequently by an act of Congress all the schedules and papers relating to this special inquiry were turned over to the Commissioner of Pensions. By means of identification on the regular population schedule of all surviving veterans and widows of veterans for whom the inquiries on the special schedule had been made, it was possible to obtain, approximately, the number living on June 1, 1890, as well as much valuable statistical data concerning them. The special provisions of the census law related only to surviving United States soldiers, sailors, and marines, so far as the name, organization, and length of service was concerned, but, for statistical purposes, an inquiry was also made on the population schedule as to the number of surviving Confederate soldiers and Confederate widows, so as to determine the number of survivors of the war of the rebellion, both Union and Confederate, as well as the number of surviving widows of participants who had died.

As a result of this statistical inquiry, it was found that on June 1, 1890, there were 1,034,073 surviving United States soldiers, sailors, and marines; 145,359 surviving widows of United States soldiers, sailors, and marines; 432,020 surviving Confederate veterans of the civil war, and 60,564 surviving widows of Confederate veterans. In using these figures it must be understood that they are approximate only, as derived from the answers made on the population schedule, and have not been subjected to careful revision and comparison with the returns made on the special schedule giving the name, organization, and length of service of each surviving veteran who had served in the United States army, navy, or marine corps during the war of the rebellion. If this special branch of the census work had been completed as originally outlined, the figures resulting therefrom would have shown very nearly the actual number of survivors of the late war on the Union side, as based upon the detailed returns concerning their records of service made to the census enumerators and carefully verified by the central office. The figures presented in this report are believed, however, to be reasonably correct, but it was deemed best that this qualifying statement should be made in the interest of all concerned.

The following table shows the distribution of the surviving veterans and widows of veterans, both United States and Confederate, by general nativity and color:

Of the whole number of surviving United States soldiers, sailors, and marines, 718,446, or 69.48 per cent, were native white of native parentage; 89,255, or 8.63 per cent, were native white of foreign parentage; 172,573, or 16.69 per cent, were foreign white; and 53,799, or 5.20 per cent, were colored. There were, on the other hand, 405,694 out of a total of 432,020 surviving Confederate soldiers and sailors, or 93.90 per cent, who were native white of native parentage, leaving only 26,326, or 6.10 per cent, for all other persons. Approximately the same conditions were found among the surviving widows of veterans as have been indicated for the surviving veterans themselves, both United States and Confederate.

The distribution by age periods of the surviving veterans of the civil war, both United States and Confederate, is shown in the following table:

AGE PERIODS.	UNITED STATES SOLDIERS, SAILORS, AND MARINES.		CONFEDERATE SOLDIERS AND SAILORS.
	Number.	Per cent.	Number.	Per cent.
All ages	1,034,073	100.00	432,020	100.00
Under 45 years	129,438	12.52	50,666	11.73
45 to 54 years	575,746	55.68	216,280	50.06
55 to 64 years	238,489	23.06	114,752	26.56
65 to 74 years	75,214	7.27	43,714	10.12
75 years and over	11,149	1.08	5,867	1.36
Age unknown	4,037	0.39	741	0.17

Of the surviving veterans of the United States army and navy, 12.52 per cent were less than 45 years of age, 55.68 per cent from 45 to 54 years of age, 23.06 per cent from 55 to 64 years of age, 7.27 per cent from 65 to 74 years of age, and 1.08 per cent 75 years of age and over. Among the surviving Confederate veterans 11.73 per cent were less than 45 years of age, 50.06 per cent from 45 to 54 years of age, 26.56 per cent from 55 to 64 years of age, 10.12 per cent from 65 to 74 years of age, and 1.36 per cent 75 years of age and over. The Confederate veterans as a class, therefore, were somewhat older than the United States veterans, showing that they drew more largely upon the older elements of their population during the progress of the civil war.

A similar distribution by age periods is shown in the following table for the surviving widows of veterans, both United States and Confederate:

AGE PERIODS.	WIDOWS OF UNITED STATES SOLDIERS, SAILORS, AND MARINES.		WIDOWS OF CONFEDERATE SOLDIERS AND SAILORS.

75 years and over	4,088	2.81	1,274	2.10

Considered as regards geographical divisions, it is seen that of the surviving United States soldiers, sailors, and marines, 519,711, or 50.26 per cent, were living June 1, 1890, in the North Central division; 315,466, or 30.51 per cent, in the North Atlantic division; 93,942, or 9.08 per cent, in the South Central division, principally in Kentucky, Tennessee, and Arkansas; 54,841, or 5.30 per cent, in the South Atlantic division; and 50,113, or 4.85 per cent, in the Western division. The largest number living in any one state was 110,780 in Pennsylvania, closely followed by Ohio with 101,602. Other large numbers were 86,041 in New York, 71,158 in Illinois, 63,747 in Missouri, 63,242 in Indiana, 50,627 in Kansas, 45,984 in Michigan, 42,855 in Iowa, and 39,606 in Massachusetts, as shown by the following statement, giving the states and territories in the order of the number of surviving United States veterans down to the lowest number:

Pennsylvania	110,780	California	17,260	Oregon	5,687
Ohio	101,602	Arkansas	14,464	North Carolina	4,133
New York	86,041	Connecticut	12,994	Alabama	4,014
Illinois	71,158	West Virginia	12,827	Delaware	3,559
Missouri	63,747	Maryland	12,648	Florida	2,814
Indiana	63,242	Colorado	9,715	Montana	2,646
Kansas	50,627	New Hampshire	8,996	Oklahoma	2,486
Michigan	45,984	Vermont	8,730	South Carolina	2,098
Iowa	42,855	Texas	8,722	North Dakota	2,064
Massachusetts	39,606	Virginia	8,365	Georgia	2,063
Kentucky	30,150	Louisiana	7,587	New Mexico	1,986
Wisconsin	29,575	Washington	7,409	Idaho	1,664
New Jersey	23,707	South Dakota	7,132	Wyoming	1,171
Nebraska	22,885	Mississippi	6,362	Arizona	1,163
Tennessee	20,157	District of Columbia	6,334	Utah	881
Minnesota	18,840	Rhode Island	6,301	Nevada	591
Maine	18,311

Of the surviving Confederate soldiers and sailors, 214,347, or 49.62 per cent, were living June 1, 1890, in the South Central division; 183,676, or 42.51 per cent, in the South Atlantic division; 25,701, or 5.95 per cent, in the North Central division, mainly in Missouri; 5,863, or 1.36 per cent, in the Western division; and 2,433, or 0.56 per cent, in the North Atlantic division. The largest number of surviving Confederate veterans was found living in Texas, and the next largest numbers in Virginia, Georgia, and North Carolina, in the order named.

The figures are given in detail for the states and territories containing at least 8,000 survivors, as follows:

Texas	66,791	Tennessee	32,201	Louisiana	16,199
Virginia	48,713	Mississippi	26,728	Kentucky	11,115
Georgia	47,080	Arkansas	26,706	West Virginia	9,117
North Carolina	43,947	South Carolina	23,650	Florida	8,232
Alabama	34,004	Missouri	17,558

Of the surviving Confederate veterans not comprehended by the above statement, 8,143 were found in the North Central division, excluding Missouri; 5,863 in all the states and territories comprising the Western division; 2,937 in Delaware, Maryland, and the District of Columbia combined; 2,433 in all the states comprising the North Atlantic division; and 603 in Oklahoma.

Of the surviving United States soldiers, sailors, and marines, 964,587, or 92.31 per cent, and of the surviving Confederate soldiers and sailors, 382,089, or 88.44 per cent, were engaged in gainful occupations in 1890. The relatively small proportion of Confederate veterans at work, as compared with United States veterans, is due to the fact that their present average age is greater than that of the United States veterans, and they are, as a consequence, incapacitated to a greater extent for active work.

Of the widows of United States veterans, 39,944, or 27.48 per cent, and of the widows of Confederate veterans, 24,492, or 40.44 per cent, were engaged in gainful occupations in 1890. The large proportion of widows of Confederate veterans at work is due to the large number engaged in agriculture, fisheries, and mining, shown in Table 100.

Very nearly seven-tenths of all the Confederate veterans at work in 1890 were engaged in agriculture, fisheries, and mining, as compared with but little more than two-fifths of the United States veterans at work.
