[7] Gold and silver can not be stated separately prior to 1876. From 1862 to 1875, inclusive, gold and silver were not in circulation except on the Pacific coast, where it is estimated that the average specie circulation was about $25,000,000, and this estimate is continued for the three following years under the head of gold. After that period gold was available for circulation.

[8] Total specie in circulation: gold and silver were not separately stated prior to 1876. [9] Estimated.

[10] As the result of special investigation by the Director of the Mint a reduction of $135,000,000 was made in the estimate of gold coin in circulation on July 1, 1907, as compared with the basis of previous years, and on Sept. 1, 1910, a reduction of $9,700,000 was made in the estimate of silver coin.

[4] Gold and silver can not be separately stated in domestic exports prior to 1864, but it is probable that the greater portion of the exports was gold, under which head the exports in question are included. Gold and silver contained in ore are included under gold and silver since 1894.

*Calendar years.

†The production statistics relate, when possible, to the year of growth, but when figures for the growth year are wanting, a commercial crop which represents the trade movement is taken. The statistics of production have been compiled from publications of the United States Department of Agriculture for 1858 to 1898.

[1] Cleaned rice; 1800 to 1903, commercial movement, as given by Dan Talmage's Sons Co.; 1904 to date as reported by the Department of Agriculture.

[2] Commercial value. [3] Of 380 pounds net. [4] Gallons sold. [5] Exports.

*Calendar years.

[1] The figures relate only to establishments which operate blast furnaces, steel works, and rolling mills, and forges and bloomeries.

[2] The figures are those of the Bureau of the Census and cover census years, which as regards manufactures, are calendar years preceding those in which the censuses were taken. For explanation of cases of disagreement with other tables of manufactures in this volume, due to variation in branches of industry covered, see census reports.

[3] Includes custom work and repairing.

[1] Estimates for the United Kingdom prior to that for 1910 were for coin only; these figures include $100,000,000 for bullion in the Bank of England, also $12,200,000 gold belonging to Indian gold standard reserve.

[2] This is the amount in the currency reserves. Fred. J. Atkinson, accountant general of India, in 1908 estimated the active rupee circulation at 2,040,000,000 rupees; small silver coin at 140,000,000 rupees.

[3] Includes Straits Settlements, the Malay States, and Johore.

[4] This estimate is based upon a calculation made by P. Arminjon and B. Michel in 1908, who estimated the stock of gold in the country at from 33,000,000 to 41,000,000 Egyptian pounds. The mean of these figures was adopted in this table last year. Since their estimate was made the net imports of gold into Egypt to Dec. 31, 1911, have amounted to $28,919,061; but as there is said to be a considerable absorption of gold for ornaments, no change in the estimate of the monetary stock has been made.

[5] Estimate of A. De Foville, 1909.

[6] German war fund and Imperial Bank of Germany. No definite information as to other holdings.

[7] Gold conversion value.

[8] This amount has been reduced to a gold basis; that is, 100 pesos equal 1 United States gold dollar.

[9] Except Costa Rica and British Honduras (gold standard countries).

Australia.—The total revenue of the Commonwealth for the year was £18,896,237, of which £5,603,191 were paid over to the States. On Mar. 27, 1912, the amount of Commonwealth notes issued and unredeemed was £10,048,472, secured by a gold reserve of £4,841,536. The net debt of the States aggregated £261,684,904, there being various sinking funds on hand totaling £5,442,379. A law providing for the taking over by the Commonwealth of the public debts of the States was approved by a popular referendum in April, 1910. The loan expenditure of the States during the year amounted to £11,926,123.

New Zealand.—The revenues and expenditures are inclusive of £3,746,648 of revenues and £3,726,416 of expenditures on account of the public-works fund, but exclusive of revenues and expenditures on account of other miscellaneous funds.
