

INDEX

Arrangement of index.—While the main topics and certain outstanding minor topics are presented in alphabetical arrangement, the nature of the material, with hundreds of intricate cross-classifications, is such that the subdivisions of each main topic can be more effectively presented in classified form.

Dates.—Where no date is mentioned, statistics are presented either for 1930 alone or for 1930 and 1920. Where earlier data form an important part of a table, the dates are given in the index.

Abbreviations.—To indicate the classification of the total population by sex, and by color, nativity, and parentage, the following abbreviations are used:

Sex only.....	S
Color, nativity, and parentage only.....	CN
Sex, in a combination with color, nativity, and parentage.....	S-CN
Data by sex and by color, nativity, and parentage (not in combination).....	S; CN

Urban-rural.—In practically all the tables indexed under the designation "Urban-rural," the figures are presented in three classifications, as follows:

Urban population:
Rural-farm population:
Rural-nonfarm (or village) population:

City groups.—The following statements will facilitate the finding of statistics for any specific city:
The cities of 500,000 or more (13 cities) are as follows: Baltimore, Boston, Buffalo, Chicago, Cleveland, Detroit, Los Angeles, Milwaukee, New York, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, St. Louis, and San Francisco.
The cities of 100,000 or more (93 cities) are listed on page 115.
The cities of 50,000 or more (191 cities) are listed by States on pages 199-201.
The cities of 25,000 or more (376 cities) are listed by States on pages 116-132.
