PRELIMINARY
REPORTS

Population Counts for Standard Metropolitan Statistical Areas

(This report is based on preliminary counts of the population as compiled in the 1970 census field offices. The series consists of one report for each of the 233 standard metropolitan statistical areas currently recognized by the U.S. Bureau of the Budget. The reports for the 230 SMSA's in the United States are numbered in alphabetical order rather than in order of publication, as are reports numbered 231 through 233 for the three SMSA's in Puerto Rico.)

As of April 1, 1970, the population of the standard metropolitan statistical area was 628,969, according to a preliminary count of the returns of the 1970 census. This figure represents an increase of 55,421, or 9.7 percent, from the 573,548 inhabitants enumerated in the 1970 census.

The preliminary figures presented here will be superseded by the final counts to be shown in report Series PC(V1) and PC(1)-A which will be issued later this year. The final figures may differ from the preliminary counts for a number of reasons.

An outline of the 1970 census publication program can be obtained free of charge from the Bureau of the Census, Washington, D.C. 20233, or any U.S. Department of Commerce Field Office.

For Sale by the Bureau of the Census and U.S. Department of Commerce Field Offices, 10 cents.

PRELIMINARY

Population Counts for Standard Metropolitan Statistical Areas

(This report is based on preliminary counts of the population as compiled in the 1970 census field offices. The series consists of one report for each of the 233 standard metropolitan statistical areas currently recognized by the U.S. Bureau of the Budget. The reports for the 230 SMSA's in the United States are numbered in alphabetical order rather than in order of publication, as are reports numbered 231 through 233 for the three SMSA's in Puerto Rico.)

As of April 1, 1970, the population of the standard metropolitan statistical area was 247,059, according to a preliminary count of the returns of the 1970 census. This figure represents a decrease of 7,721, or 3.0 percent, from the 254,780 inhabitants enumerated in the 1960 census.

The preliminary figures presented here will be superseded by the final counts to be shown in report Series PC(V1) and PC(1)-A which will be issued later this year. The final figures may differ from the preliminary counts for a number of reasons.

An outline of the 1970 census publication program can be obtained free of charge from the Bureau of the Census, Washington, D.C. 20233, or any U.S. Department of Commerce Field Office.

For Sale by the Bureau of the Census and U.S. Department of Commerce Field Offices, 10 cents.

Knoxville, Tenn.

PRELIMINARY

Population Counts for Standard Metropolitan Statistical Areas

(This report is based on preliminary counts of the population as compiled in the 1970 census field offices. The series consists of one report for each of the 233 standard metropolitan statistical areas currently recognized by the U.S. Bureau of the Budget. The reports for the 230 SMSA's in the United States are numbered in alphabetical order rather than in order of publication, as are reports numbered 231 through 233 for the three SMSA's in Puerto Rico.)

As of April 1, 1970, the population of the standard metropolitan statistical area was 391,974, according to a preliminary count of the returns of the 1970 census. This figure represents an increase of 23,894, or 6.5 percent, from the 368,080 inhabitants enumerated in the 1960 census.

The preliminary figures presented here will be superseded by the final counts to be shown in report Series PC(V1) and PC(1)-A which will be issued later this year. The final figures may differ from the preliminary counts for a number of reasons.

An outline of the 1970 census publication program can be obtained free of charge from the Bureau of the Census, Washington, D.C. 20233, or any U.S. Department of Commerce Field Office.

For Sale by the Bureau of the Census and U.S. Department of Commerce Field Offices, 10 cents.

Population Counts for Standard Metropolitan Statistical Areas

(This report is based on preliminary counts of the population as compiled in the 1970 census field offices. The series consists of one report for each of the 233 standard metropolitan statistical areas currently recognized by the U.S. Bureau of the Budget. The reports for the 230 SMSA's in the United States are numbered in alphabetical order rather than in order of publication, as are reports numbered 231 through 233 for the three SMSA's in Puerto Rico.)

As of April 1, 1970, the population of the standard metropolitan statistical area was 170,687, according to a preliminary count of the returns of the 1970 census. This figure represents an increase of 9,825, or 6.1 percent, from the 160,862 inhabitants enumerated in the 1960 census.

The preliminary figures presented here will be superseded by the final counts to be shown in report Series PC(V1) and PC(1)-A which will be issued later this year. The final figures may differ from the preliminary counts for a number of reasons.

An outline of the 1970 census publication program can be obtained free of charge from the Bureau of the Census, Washington, D.C. 20233, or any U.S. Department of Commerce Field Office.

For Sale by the Bureau of the Census and U.S. Department of Commerce Field Offices, 10 cents.

PRELIMINARY

Population Counts for Standard Metropolitan Statistical Areas

(This report is based on preliminary counts of the population as compiled in the 1970 census field offices. The series consists of one report for each of the 233 standard metropolitan statistical areas currently recognized by the U.S. Bureau of the Budget. The reports for the 230 SMSA's in the United States are numbered in alphabetical order rather than in order of publication, as are reports numbered 231 through 233 for the three SMSA's in Puerto Rico.)

As of April 1, 1970, the population of the standard metropolitan statistical area was 129,162, according to a preliminary count of the returns of the 1970 census. This figure represents an increase of 11,401, or 9.7 percent, from the 117,761 inhabitants enumerated in the 1960 census.

The preliminary figures presented here will be superseded by the final counts to be shown in report Series PC(V1) and PC(1)-A which will be issued later this year. The final figures may differ from the preliminary counts for a number of reasons.

An outline of the 1970 census publication program can be obtained free of charge from the Bureau of the Census, Washington, D.C. 20233, or any U.S. Department of Commerce Field Office.

For Sale by the Bureau of the Census and U.S. Department of Commerce Field Offices, 10 cents.

1970 CENSUS OF POPULATION

U.S. DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE/Bureau of the Census

PC(P2)-141

Newport News-Hampton, Va.

PRELIMINARY

Population Counts for Standard Metropolitan Statistical Areas

(This report is based on preliminary counts of the population as compiled in the 1970 census field offices. The series consists of one report for each of the 233 standard metropolitan statistical areas currently recognized by the U.S. Bureau of the Budget. The reports for the 230 SMSA's in the United States are numbered in alphabetical order rather than in order of publication, as are reports numbered 231 through 233 for the three SMSA's in Puerto Rico.)

As of April 1, 1970, the population of the standard metropolitan statistical area was 289,341, according to a preliminary count of the returns of the 1970 census. This figure represents an increase of 64,838, or 28.9 percent, from the 224,503 inhabitants enumerated in the 1960 census.

The preliminary figures presented here will be superseded by the final counts to be shown in report Series PC(V1) and PC(1)-A which will be issued later this year. The final figures may differ from the preliminary counts for a number of reasons.

An outline of the 1970 census publication program can be obtained free of charge from the Bureau of the Census, Washington, D.C. 20233, or any U.S. Department of Commerce Field Office.

For Sale by the Bureau of the Census and U.S. Department of Commerce Field Offices, 10 cents.
