Preface

The County and City Data Book (CCDB), published intermittently since 1944, is a local area supplement to the Statistical Abstract of the United States. This 2000 edition is the thirteenth in the series. The first edition featured city data only; the second, in 1947, county data only. Beginning with the third edition in 1949, the book was redesigned to include both county and city data and renamed the County and City Data Book. Subsequent editions were published in 1952, 1956, 1962, 1967, 1972, 1977, 1983, 1988, and 1994.

The CCDB is a convenient summary of statistics on the social and economic structure of the counties and cities of the United States. It is designed to serve as a statistical reference and guide to other data publications and sources. The latter function is served by the source citations appearing below each table and in Appendix A, Source Notes and Explanations.

This volume includes a selection of data from many statistical publications and electronic sources, both government and private. Publications and Internet sites listed as sources usually contain additional detail and more comprehensive discussions of definitions and concepts than can be presented here. Data not available in publications issued by the contributing agency but obtained from unpublished records are identified in the source notes as "unpublished data." More information on the subjects covered in the tables so noted may generally be obtained from the source.

Although emphasis in this Data Book is primarily given to county and city data, Table A includes U.S. and state totals and Table D includes population data for all places of 2,500 or more population.

Changes in this edition—The presentation of the various tables has been changed such that one data table for all counties or cities is shown before the next data table; earlier editions presented all the data tables for a specific group of counties or cities before repeating the data tables for the next group of counties or cities. This change has enabled us to include county and city references in Appendix D, Subject Guide for ease in locating these data.

We have changed the presentation of state data to an alphabetic one. Selected rankings may be found on the Census Bureau's Internet site at <http://www.census.gov/statab/www/ccdb.html>.

Source notes now appear at the bottom of each table page, as well as in the source notes and explanations appendix. Some citations provide Internet addresses either as the sole citation or as a supplement to the printed or electronic source. In addition, we now include a Contact List which provides a guide to Federal agencies with major statistical programs and includes their mailing address, phone number, and Internet address.

Statistics in this edition—Data are generally shown for the most recent year or period available by spring 2001. Initial results from the 2000 Census of Population and Housing are included, as well as 1997 Economic Census data.

States—Data are presented for the United States, the 50 states, and the District of Columbia. 191 data items are presented for these areas in 13 tables, A-1 through A-13. The states and the District of Columbia are presented in alphabetic order under the U.S. total.

Counties—Data are presented for the 3,142 counties and county equivalents defined as of January 1, 1992, as well as the United States, the 50 states, and the District of Columbia. 191 data items are presented for these areas in 13 tables, B-1 through B-13. The counties and county equivalents are presented in Federal Information Processing Standards (FIPS) code order, which lists counties alphabetically under their respective states; independent cities in Maryland, Missouri, Nevada, and Virginia are listed alphabetically at the end of the respective county listing.

Cities—Data are presented for the 1,070 incorporated places with 25,000 or more population in the 1990 census, as well as the 50 states, the District of Columbia, 8 census designated places (CDPs) with 25,000 or more population in 1990 in Hawaii which has no incorporated places, and the 5 boroughs of New York city. This list is based on population counts from the 1990 census. 103 data items are presented for these areas in 7 tables, C-1 through C-7. The cities and CDPs are presented in FIPS code order, which lists these areas alphabetically under their respective states; the 5 New York city boroughs are listed under the city.

Places—Census 2000 population data are presented for the 8,888 incorporated places and census designated places (CDPs) with 2,500 or more population as of April 1, 2000 in Table D-1. Table D-2 presents the same 11 Census 2000 data items for the 2,759 functioning minor civil divisions (MCDs) with 2,500 or more population as of April 1, 2000 in the following 12 states: Connecticut, Maine, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Vermont, and Wisconsin. Both tables also present state totals for all states shown. The places in Table D-1 and the MCDs in Table D-2 are presented in FIPS code order, as described above.

Statistical reliability and responsibility—The contents of this volume were taken from many sources. All data from either censuses and surveys or from administrative records are subject to error arising from a number of factors: Sampling variability (for statistics based on samples), reporting errors in the data for individual units, incomplete coverage, nonresponse, imputations, and processing error. The Census Bureau cannot accept the responsibility for the accuracy or limitations of the data presented here, other than those for which it collects. The responsibility for selection of the material and for proper presentation, however, rests with the Bureau.

Maps—For a map of the United States with the 50 states and the District of Columbia, as well as census regions and divisions, see the inside of the front cover. Maps of all 50 states and the District of Columbia showing county and metropolitan area boundaries and names, as well as the locations of cities of 25,000 or more population, can be found in Appendix C.

Appendixes—Appendix A presents a discussion of source notes and explanations for the data items in Tables A through D. Appendix B presents a discussion of the geographic concepts and codes relevant to this volume, as well as the current definitions for metropolitan areas. Appendix C is a set of state maps with county and metropolitan area boundaries and names, as well as locations of cities of 25,000 or more population. Appendix D is a guide to subjects by geographic area.

For additional information on data presented—Please consult the source publications available in local libraries, write to the agency indicated in the source notes, or visit the Internet site listed. Contact the Census Bureau only if it is cited as the source.

Statistics for the nation—Extensive data at the national level can be found in the Statistical Abstract of the United States: 2001, an annual national data book, released each fall. Several editions of this publication are available on the Internet at <http://www.census.gov/statab/www/>.

USA Statistics in Brief, a pocket-size pamphlet highlighting many statistical series in the Abstract, is available separately; single copies of this pamphlet can be obtained free from U.S. Census Bureau, Customer Services Center, Washington, DC 20233 (telephone 301-763-4636).

Statistics for states and metropolitan areas—Data for states and metropolitan areas may be found in the State and Metropolitan Area Data Book: 1997-98; available in print, on CD-ROM, or on the Internet at <http://www.census.gov/statab/www/smadb.html>.

Additional statistics for counties—While this book contains approximately 200 data items for all counties and county equivalents in the United States, an extensive county database featuring over 5,000 data items for these areas can be found on USA Counties: 1998, a CD-ROM product or on the Internet at <http://www.census.gov/statab/www/county.html>.

Suggestions and comments—Users of the County and City Data Book and related publications (see inside back cover) are urged to make their data needs known for consideration in planning future editions. Suggestions and comments for improving coverage and presentation of data should be sent to the Director, U.S. Census Bureau, Washington, DC 20233.

Headnotes immediately below table titles provide information on the geographic areas presented in the table.

Unit indicators show the specified quantities in which data items are presented. They are used for two primary reasons. Sometimes data are not available in absolute form. Other times we round the numbers in order to save space to show more data, as in the case above.

If no unit indicator is shown, data presented are in absolute form (see table B-1 for an example). When needed, unit indicators are found in the column or spanner headings for the data items as shown above.

Footnotes below the bottom rule of table pages give information relating to specific data items or figures within the table.

Source notes below footnotes provide a guide to the the original source and related Internet site, when applicable.

Example of Unit Indicator Interpretation From Table

Geography or area	Year	Item	Unit indicator	Number shown	Multiply by
UNITED STATES.	1998	Personal income	(mil. dol.)	7,351,547.0	$1,000,000

To Determine the Figure it Is Necessary to Multiply the Number Shown by the Unit Indicator:

Personal income, 1998 = 7,351,547.0 * 1,000,000 or 7,351,547,000,000 (over 7 trillion dollars)

In many tables, details will not add to the totals shown because of rounding.

EXPLANATION OF SYMBOLS AND TERMS

The following symbols are used in the tables throughout this book.

-	Represents zero or rounds to less than half the unit of measurement shown.
B	Base figure too small to meet statistical standards for reliability of a derived figure.
D	Figure withheld to avoid disclosure pertaining to a specific organization or individual.
NA	Data not enumerated, tabulated, or otherwise available separately.
S	Figure does not meet publication standards for reasons other than that covered by symbol B, above.
X	Figure not applicable because column heading and stub line make entry impossible, absurd, or meaningless.
Z	Entry would amount to less than half the unit of measurement shown.

The following terms are also used throughout this publication:

Averages. An average is a single number or value that is often used to represent the "typical value" of a group of numbers. It is regarded as a measure of "location" or "central tendency" of a group of numbers.

The arithmetic mean is the type of average used most frequently. It is derived by summing the individual item values of a particular group and dividing the total by the number of items. The arithmetic mean is often referred to simply as the "mean" or "average."

The median of a group of numbers is the middle number or value when each item in the group is arranged according to size (lowest to highest or visa versa); it generally has the same number of items above it as well as below it. If there is an even number of items in the group, the median is taken to be the average of the two middle numbers.

Rates. Rate is a quantity or amount of an item measured in relation to a specified number of units of another item. For example, unemployment rate is the number of unemployed persons per 100 persons in the civilian labor force. Examples of other rates found in this publication include birth rate, which is the number of births per 1,000 population; infant death rate, the number of infant deaths per 1,000 live births; and crime rate, which is the number of serious offenses per 100,000 population.

A per capita figure represents a specific type of rate computed for every person in a specified group (or population). It is derived by taking the total for a data item (such as income, taxes, or retail sales) and dividing it by the number of persons in the specified population.

Contact List

To help County and City Data Book users find more data and information about statistical publications, we are issuing this list of contacts for Federal agencies with major statistical programs. The intent is to give a single, first-contact point-of-entry for users of statistics. These agencies will provide general information on their statistical programs and publications, as well as specific information on how to order their publications. We are also including the Internet (World Wide Web) addresses for many of these agencies. These URL's were current in September 2001.

[1] For 1990 corrected population, see table A-1. Percent is based on 1990 uncorrected population because only total population is corrected. [2] For total earnings, see table A-8. [3] Most data are comparable between 1992 and 1997; however, it should be noted that farms with all acreage in Conservation or Wetlands Reserve Programs (excluded in 1992) are included in 1997, as are short rotation woody crops which includes Christmas trees and maple sap gathering (in Forestry in 1992). [4] Includes nursery and greenhouse crops. [5] Includes related products.

[1] Federal Information Processing Standards (FIPS) codes for metropolitan areas defined as of June 30, 1999. [2] FIPS codes for states and counties/county equivalents. [3] Dry land and land temporarily or partially covered by water. [4] Based on 3,140 counties/county equivalents; excludes Yellowstone National Park in MT and South Boston independent city in VA which are no longer counties. When counties share the same rank, the next lower rank is omitted. [5] Includes count resolution corrections through 1997 and adjustments based on Census 2000 dress rehearsal results and boundary changes reported as legally effective as of January 1, 1998. [6] Persons of Hispanic or Latino origin may be of any race.

[1] Federal Information Processing Standards (FIPS) codes for metropolitan areas defined as of June 30, 1999. [2] FIPS codes for states and counties/county equivalents. [3] Dry land and land temporarily or partially covered by water. [4] Based on 3,140 counties/county equivalents; excludes Yellowstone National Park in MT and South Boston independent city in VA which are no longer counties. When counties share the same rank, the next lower rank is omitted. [5] Includes count resolution corrections through 1997 and adjustments based on Census 2000 dress rehearsal results and boundary changes reported as legally effective as of January 1, 1998. [6] Persons of Hispanic or Latino origin may be of any race. [7] 1980 population based on 1990 county boundaries. [8] Denali Borough included with Yukon-Koyukuk Census Area; data not available separately.

[1] Federal Information Processing Standards (FIPS) codes for metropolitan areas defined as of June 30, 1999. [2] FIPS codes for states and counties/county equivalents. [3] Dry land and land temporarily or partially covered by water. [4] Based on 3,140 counties/county equivalents; excludes Yellowstone National Park in MT and South Boston independent city in VA which are no longer counties. When counties share the same rank, the next lower rank is omitted. [5] Includes count resolution corrections through 1997 and adjustments based on Census 2000 dress rehearsal results and boundary changes reported as legally effective as of January 1, 1998. [6] Persons of Hispanic or Latino origin may be of any race.

[1] Federal Information Processing Standards (FIPS) codes for metropolitan areas defined as of June 30, 1999. [2] FIPS codes for states and counties/county equivalents. [3] Dry land and land temporarily or partially covered by water. [4] Based on 3,140 counties/county equivalents; excludes Yellowstone National Park in MT and South Boston independent city in VA which are no longer counties. When counties share the same rank, the next lower rank is omitted. [5] Includes count resolution corrections through 1997 and adjustments based on Census 2000 dress rehearsal results and boundary changes reported as legally effective as of January 1, 1998. [6] Persons of Hispanic or Latino origin may be of any race.

[1] Federal Information Processing Standards (FIPS) codes for metropolitan areas defined as of June 30, 1999. [2] FIPS codes for states and counties/county equivalents. [3] Dry land and land temporarily or partially covered by water. [4] Based on 3,140 counties/county equivalents; excludes Yellowstone National Park in MT and South Boston independent city in VA which are no longer counties. When counties share the same rank, the next lower rank is omitted. [5] Includes count resolution corrections through 1997 and adjustments based on Census 2000 dress rehearsal results and boundary changes reported as legally effective as of January 1, 1998. [6] Persons of Hispanic or Latino origin may be of any race.

[1] Federal Information Processing Standards (FIPS) codes for metropolitan areas defined as of June 30, 1999. [2] FIPS codes for states and counties/county equivalents. [3] Dry land and land temporarily or partially covered by water. [4] Based on 3,140 counties/county equivalents; excludes Yellowstone National Park in MT and South Boston independent city in VA which are no longer counties. When counties share the same rank, the next lower rank is omitted. [5] Includes count resolution corrections through 1997 and adjustments based on Census 2000 dress rehearsal results and boundary changes reported as legally effective as of January 1, 1998. [6] Persons of Hispanic or Latino origin may be of any race.

[1] Federal Information Processing Standards (FIPS) codes for metropolitan areas defined as of June 30, 1999. [2] FIPS codes for states and counties/county equivalents. [3] Dry land and land temporarily or partially covered by water. [4] Based on 3,140 counties/county equivalents; excludes Yellowstone National Park in MT and South Boston independent city in VA which are no longer counties. When counties share the same rank, the next lower rank is omitted. [5] Includes count resolution corrections through 1997 and adjustments based on Census 2000 dress rehearsal results and boundary changes reported as legally effective as of January 1, 1998. [6] Persons of Hispanic or Latino origin may be of any race.

[1] Federal Information Processing Standards (FIPS) codes for metropolitan areas defined as of June 30, 1999. [2] FIPS codes for states and counties/county equivalents. [3] Dry land and land temporarily or partially covered by water. [4] Based on 3,140 counties/county equivalents; excludes Yellowstone National Park in MT and South Boston independent city in VA which are no longer counties. When counties share the same rank, the next lower rank is omitted. [5] Includes count resolution corrections through 1997 and adjustments based on Census 2000 dress rehearsal results and boundary changes reported as legally effective as of January 1, 1998. [6] Persons of Hispanic or Latino origin may be of any race.

[1] Federal Information Processing Standards (FIPS) codes for metropolitan areas defined as of June 30, 1999. [2] FIPS codes for states and counties/county equivalents. [3] Dry land and land temporarily or partially covered by water. [4] Based on 3,140 counties/county equivalents; excludes Yellowstone National Park in MT and South Boston independent city in VA which are no longer counties. When counties share the same rank, the next lower rank is omitted. [5] Includes count resolution corrections through 1997 and adjustments based on Census 2000 dress rehearsal results and boundary changes reported as legally effective as of January 1, 1998. [6] Persons of Hispanic or Latino origin may be of any race.

[1] Federal Information Processing Standards (FIPS) codes for metropolitan areas defined as of June 30, 1999. [2] FIPS codes for states and counties/county equivalents. [3] Dry land and land temporarily or partially covered by water. [4] Based on 3,140 counties/county equivalents; excludes Yellowstone National Park in MT and South Boston independent city in VA which are no longer counties. When counties share the same rank, the next lower rank is omitted. [5] Includes count resolution corrections through 1997 and adjustments based on Census 2000 dress rehearsal results and boundary changes reported as legally effective as of January 1, 1998. [6] Persons of Hispanic or Latino origin may be of any race.

[1] Federal Information Processing Standards (FIPS) codes for metropolitan areas defined as of June 30, 1999. [2] FIPS codes for states and counties/county equivalents. [3] Dry land and land temporarily or partially covered by water. [4] Based on 3,140 counties/county equivalents; excludes Yellowstone National Park in MT and South Boston independent city in VA which are no longer counties. When counties share the same rank, the next lower rank is omitted. [5] Includes count resolution corrections through 1997 and adjustments based on Census 2000 dress rehearsal results and boundary changes reported as legally effective as of January 1, 1998. [6] Persons of Hispanic or Latino origin may be of any race.

[1] Federal Information Processing Standards (FIPS) codes for metropolitan areas defined as of June 30, 1999. [2] FIPS codes for states and counties/county equivalents. [3] Dry land and land temporarily or partially covered by water. [4] Based on 3,140 counties/county equivalents; excludes Yellowstone National Park in MT and South Boston independent city in VA which are no longer counties. When counties share the same rank, the next lower rank is omitted. [5] Includes count resolution corrections through 1997 and adjustments based on Census 2000 dress rehearsal results and boundary changes reported as legally effective as of January 1, 1998. [6] Persons of Hispanic or Latino origin may be of any race.

[1] Federal Information Processing Standards (FIPS) codes for metropolitan areas defined as of June 30, 1999. [2] FIPS codes for states and counties/county equivalents. [3] Dry land and land temporarily or partially covered by water. [4] Based on 3,140 counties/county equivalents; excludes Yellowstone National Park in MT and South Boston independent city in VA which are no longer counties. When counties share the same rank, the next lower rank is omitted. [5] Includes count resolution corrections through 1997 and adjustments based on Census 2000 dress rehearsal results and boundary changes reported as legally effective as of January 1, 1998. [6] Persons of Hispanic or Latino origin may be of any race.

[1] Federal Information Processing Standards (FIPS) codes for metropolitan areas defined as of June 30, 1999. [2] FIPS codes for states and counties/county equivalents. [3] Dry land and land temporarily or partially covered by water. [4] Based on 3,140 counties/county equivalents; excludes Yellowstone National Park in MT and South Boston independent city in VA which are no longer counties. When counties share the same rank, the next lower rank is omitted. [5] Includes count resolution corrections through 1997 and adjustments based on Census 2000 dress rehearsal results and boundary changes reported as legally effective as of January 1, 1998. [6] Persons of Hispanic or Latino origin may be of any race.

[1] Federal Information Processing Standards (FIPS) codes for metropolitan areas defined as of June 30, 1999. [2] FIPS codes for states and counties/county equivalents. [3] Dry land and land temporarily or partially covered by water. [4] Based on 3,140 counties/county equivalents; excludes Yellowstone National Park in MT and South Boston independent city in VA which are no longer counties. When counties share the same rank, the next lower rank is omitted. [5] Includes count resolution corrections through 1997 and adjustments based on Census 2000 dress rehearsal results and boundary changes reported as legally effective as of January 1, 1998. [6] Persons of Hispanic or Latino origin may be of any race.

[1] Federal Information Processing Standards (FIPS) codes for metropolitan areas defined as of June 30, 1999. [2] FIPS codes for states and counties/county equivalents. [3] Dry land and land temporarily or partially covered by water. [4] Based on 3,140 counties/county equivalents; excludes Yellowstone National Park in MT and South Boston independent city in VA which are no longer counties. When counties share the same rank, the next lower rank is omitted. [5] Includes count resolution corrections through 1997 and adjustments based on Census 2000 dress rehearsal results and boundary changes reported as legally effective as of January 1, 1998. [6] Persons of Hispanic or Latino origin may be of any race.

[1] Federal Information Processing Standards (FIPS) codes for metropolitan areas defined as of June 30, 1999. [2] FIPS codes for states and counties/county equivalents. [3] Dry land and land temporarily or partially covered by water. [4] Based on 3,140 counties/county equivalents; excludes Yellowstone National Park in MT and South Boston independent city in VA which are no longer counties. When counties share the same rank, the next lower rank is omitted. [5] Includes count resolution corrections through 1997 and adjustments based on Census 2000 dress rehearsal results and boundary changes reported as legally effective as of January 1, 1998. [6] Persons of Hispanic or Latino origin may be of any race.

[1] Federal Information Processing Standards (FIPS) codes for metropolitan areas defined as of June 30, 1999. [2] FIPS codes for states and counties/county equivalents. [3] Dry land and land temporarily or partially covered by water. [4] Based on 3,140 counties/county equivalents; excludes Yellowstone National Park in MT and South Boston independent city in VA which are no longer counties. When counties share the same rank, the next lower rank is omitted. [5] Includes count resolution corrections through 1997 and adjustments based on Census 2000 dress rehearsal results and boundary changes reported as legally effective as of January 1, 1998. [6] Persons of Hispanic or Latino origin may be of any race.

[1] Federal Information Processing Standards (FIPS) codes for metropolitan areas defined as of June 30, 1999. [2] FIPS codes for states and counties/county equivalents. [3] Dry land and land temporarily or partially covered by water. [4] Based on 3,140 counties/county equivalents; excludes Yellowstone National Park in MT and South Boston independent city in VA which are no longer counties. When counties share the same rank, the next lower rank is omitted. [5] Includes count resolution corrections through 1997 and adjustments based on Census 2000 dress rehearsal results and boundary changes reported as legally effective as of January 1, 1998. [6] Persons of Hispanic or Latino origin may be of any race.

[1] Federal Information Processing Standards (FIPS) codes for metropolitan areas defined as of June 30, 1999. [2] FIPS codes for states and counties/county equivalents. [3] Dry land and land temporarily or partially covered by water. [4] Based on 3,140 counties/county equivalents; excludes Yellowstone National Park in MT and South Boston independent city in VA which are no longer counties. When counties share the same rank, the next lower rank is omitted. [5] Includes count resolution corrections through 1997 and adjustments based on Census 2000 dress rehearsal results and boundary changes reported as legally effective as of January 1, 1998. [6] Persons of Hispanic or Latino origin may be of any race.

[1] Federal Information Processing Standards (FIPS) codes for metropolitan areas defined as of June 30, 1999. [2] FIPS codes for states and counties/county equivalents. [3] Dry land and land temporarily or partially covered by water. [4] Based on 3,140 counties/county equivalents; excludes Yellowstone National Park in MT and South Boston independent city in VA which are no longer counties. When counties share the same rank, the next lower rank is omitted. [5] Includes count resolution corrections through 1997 and adjustments based on Census 2000 dress rehearsal results and boundary changes reported as legally effective as of January 1, 1998. [6] Persons of Hispanic or Latino origin may be of any race.

[1] Federal Information Processing Standards (FIPS) codes for metropolitan areas defined as of June 30, 1999. [2] FIPS codes for states and counties/county equivalents. [3] Dry land and land temporarily or partially covered by water. [4] Based on 3,140 counties/county equivalents; excludes Yellowstone National Park in MT and South Boston independent city in VA which are no longer counties. When counties share the same rank, the next lower rank is omitted. [5] Includes count resolution corrections through 1997 and adjustments based on Census 2000 dress rehearsal results and boundary changes reported as legally effective as of January 1, 1998. [6] Persons of Hispanic or Latino origin may be of any race.

[1] Federal Information Processing Standards (FIPS) codes for metropolitan areas defined as of June 30, 1999. [2] FIPS codes for states and counties/county equivalents. [3] Dry land and land temporarily or partially covered by water. [4] Based on 3,140 counties/county equivalents; excludes Yellowstone National Park in MT and South Boston independent city in VA which are no longer counties. When counties share the same rank, the next lower rank is omitted. [5] Includes count resolution corrections through 1997 and adjustments based on Census 2000 dress rehearsal results and boundary changes reported as legally effective as of January 1, 1998. [6] Persons of Hispanic or Latino origin may be of any race.

[1] Federal Information Processing Standards (FIPS) codes for metropolitan areas defined as of June 30, 1999. [2] FIPS codes for states and counties/county equivalents. [3] Dry land and land temporarily or partially covered by water. [4] Based on 3,140 counties/county equivalents; excludes Yellowstone National Park in MT and South Boston independent city in VA which are no longer counties. When counties share the same rank, the next lower rank is omitted. [5] Includes count resolution corrections through 1997 and adjustments based on Census 2000 dress rehearsal results and boundary changes reported as legally effective as of January 1, 1998. [6] Persons of Hispanic or Latino origin may be of any race.

[1] Federal Information Processing Standards (FIPS) codes for metropolitan areas defined as of June 30, 1999. [2] FIPS codes for states and counties/county equivalents. [3] Dry land and land temporarily or partially covered by water. [4] Based on 3,140 counties/county equivalents; excludes Yellowstone National Park in MT and South Boston independent city in VA which are no longer counties. When counties share the same rank, the next lower rank is omitted. [5] Includes count resolution corrections through 1997 and adjustments based on Census 2000 dress rehearsal results and boundary changes reported as legally effective as of January 1, 1998. [6] Persons of Hispanic or Latino origin may be of any race.

[1] Federal Information Processing Standards (FIPS) codes for metropolitan areas defined as of June 30, 1999. [2] FIPS codes for states and counties/county equivalents. [3] Dry land and land temporarily or partially covered by water. [4] Based on 3,140 counties/county equivalents; excludes Yellowstone National Park in MT and South Boston independent city in VA which are no longer counties. When counties share the same rank, the next lower rank is omitted. [5] Includes count resolution corrections through 1997 and adjustments based on Census 2000 dress rehearsal results and boundary changes reported as legally effective as of January 1, 1998. [6] Persons of Hispanic or Latino origin may be of any race.

[1] Federal Information Processing Standards (FIPS) codes for metropolitan areas defined as of June 30, 1999. [2] FIPS codes for states and counties/county equivalents. [3] Dry land and land temporarily or partially covered by water. [4] Based on 3,140 counties/county equivalents; excludes Yellowstone National Park in MT and South Boston independent city in VA which are no longer counties. When counties share the same rank, the next lower rank is omitted. [5] Includes count resolution corrections through 1997 and adjustments based on Census 2000 dress rehearsal results and boundary changes reported as legally effective as of January 1, 1998. [6] Persons of Hispanic or Latino origin may be of any race.

[1] Federal Information Processing Standards (FIPS) codes for metropolitan areas defined as of June 30, 1999. [2] FIPS codes for states and counties/county equivalents. [3] Dry land and land temporarily or partially covered by water. [4] Based on 3,140 counties/county equivalents; excludes Yellowstone National Park in MT and South Boston independent city in VA which are no longer counties. When counties share the same rank, the next lower rank is omitted. [5] Includes count resolution corrections through 1997 and adjustments based on Census 2000 dress rehearsal results and boundary changes reported as legally effective as of January 1, 1998. [6] Persons of Hispanic or Latino origin may be of any race. [7] 1980 population based on 1990 county boundaries. [8] Excludes South Boston independent city which is included with Halifax County in the 1990 and 2000 population data; for more information, see appendix B. Geographic Information.

[1] Federal Information Processing Standards (FIPS) codes for metropolitan areas defined as of June 30, 1999. [2] FIPS codes for states and counties/county equivalents. [3] Dry land and land temporarily or partially covered by water. [4] Based on 3,140 counties/county equivalents; excludes Yellowstone National Park in MT and South Boston independent city in VA which are no longer counties. When counties share the same rank, the next lower rank is omitted. [5] Includes count resolution corrections through 1997 and adjustments based on Census 2000 dress rehearsal results and boundary changes reported as legally effective as of January 1, 1998. [6] Persons of Hispanic or Latino origin may be of any race. [7] 1980 population based on 1990 county boundaries.

[1] Federal Information Processing Standards (FIPS) codes for metropolitan areas defined as of June 30, 1999. [2] FIPS codes for states and counties/county equivalents. [3] Dry land and land temporarily or partially covered by water. [4] Based on 3,140 counties/county equivalents; excludes Yellowstone National Park in MT and South Boston independent city in VA which are no longer counties. When counties share the same rank, the next lower rank is omitted. [5] Includes count resolution corrections through 1997 and adjustments based on Census 2000 dress rehearsal results and boundary changes reported as legally effective as of January 1, 1998. [6] Persons of Hispanic or Latino origin may be of any race.

[1] Federal Information Processing Standards (FIPS) codes for metropolitan areas defined as of June 30, 1999. [2] FIPS codes for states and counties/county equivalents. [3] Dry land and land temporarily or partially covered by water. [4] Based on 3,140 counties/county equivalents; excludes Yellowstone National Park in MT and South Boston independent city in VA which are no longer counties. When counties share the same rank, the next lower rank is omitted. [5] Includes count resolution corrections through 1997 and adjustments based on Census 2000 dress rehearsal results and boundary changes reported as legally effective as of January 1, 1998. [6] Persons of Hispanic or Latino origin may be of any race.
