A SOCIAL-ECONOMIC GROUPING OF GAINFUL WORKERS IN CITIES OF 500,000 OR MORE: 1930

The figures given herein present a distribution according to social-economic groups, with further classification by sex, color, and nativity, of the gainful workers reported at the Census of 1930 in the 13 cities having 500,000 inhabitants or more.

These figures supplement the data given in the same detail for States and in much less detail for the 13 cities in the report recently issued by the Bureau of the Census, entitled "A Social-economic Grouping of the Gainful Workers of the United States, 1930."
