Welcome

Housekeeping Items

- The Census Bureau continues to try to provide access to this event and information about 2020 Census planning to a wider audience of stakeholders; however, that does require a few reminders
 - Reminder: Meeting is being broadcast via a publicly available web broadcast. Consider all microphones live at all times when having sidebar conversations
 - Reminder: There are legal requirements we must follow when talking with contractors or potential contractors
- Information from Michael Palensky, Chief Acquisition Division
- For questions, please remember to speak directly into the microphones for the benefit of other participants, including those watching via any external broadcast
- Location of Restrooms
- Emergency exits
