

Test for Calling Managers of Multi-Unit Structures

The Census Bureau is conducting a Test for Calling Managers of Multi-Unit Structures in from February through May 2016. The purpose of this test is to research cost effective alternatives to in-person visits by a Census Bureau Enumerator to collect addresses information prior to the 2020 Census.

The test involves census staff calling managers of multi-unit structures and mobile home parks to collect address and individual unit designators. Participation is voluntary and it will only take a few minutes to answer these questions.

Your Answers Are Confidential

Your answers are confidential and protected by law. All U.S. Census Bureau employees have taken an oath and are subject to a jail term, a fine, or both if they disclose ANY information that could identify you or your household. Your answers will only be used for statistical purposes, and no other purpose. As allowed by law, your census data become public after 72 years. This information can be used for family history and other types of historical research.
