Occupation Information

Occupation Code
Chief executives and legislators 0010 (SOC 11-10XX)

Description:

Occupation describes the kind of work a person does on the job. Data were derived from answers to the following questions on the American Community Survey (ACS) questionnaire- "What kind of work was this person doing?" and "What were this person's most important activities or duties?" These questions were asked of all people 15 years old and over who had worked in the past 5 years. For employed people, the data refer to the person's job during the previous week. For those who worked two or more jobs, the data refer to the job where the person worked the greatest number of hours. For unemployed people and people who are not currently employed but report having a job within the last five years, the data refer to their last job.

The complete Census 2010 Occupational Classification System consists of 539 detailed categories, including four military-specific occupations. Due to the U.S. Census Bureau's Disclosure Review Board Requirements for the Equal Employment Opportunity (EEO) tabulation, any occupational category containing fewer than 10,000 people employed nationwide cannot be shown separately and must be combined with related occupational categories to create aggregates containing 10,000 or more people. In the EEO Tabulation there are 487 detailed occupation codes included in the worksite and worksite/residence tables, and 488 detailed occupation codes in the residence tables. The residence geography tables include an "unemployed, no work experience in the last 5 years or most recent job was in a military-specific occupation" category.

The Census classification is based on the 2010 Standard Occupational Classification (SOC) and arranged into 23 major groups. Occupation categories are listed by both the Census occupation code and the equivalent 6-digit SOC code. When a Census code does not have a single matching SOC equivalent, the SOC code shown may contain alpha characters, such as "11-10XX" with a description of the SOC codes combined included.
