2011 Annual Services Report

Item Specific Instructions

6 NET REVENUE - Patient Care Revenue

Line 1a - Government (includes Medicare, Medicaid, Other Government, and Worker's Compensation)

There are two types of payments that may be received from Medicare: fee-for-service payments under the traditional Medicare arrangement (Parts A, B, and D payments), and capitated payments (fixed payment per member per month) under Medicare Advantage, or Medicare Managed Care, also sometimes known as Medicare Part C.

Only include fee-for-service payments under traditional Medicare (Parts A, B, and D payments) in the Medicare category. For a current list of intermediaries and carriers that make these payments on behalf of Medicare, please see: cms.hhs.gov/ContractingGeneralInformation/.

Payments made to Medicare under arrangement with a private health insurance plan (for Medicare beneficiaries in managed care plans, or HMO's) should be included with Line 1b - Private insurance.

For a current list of Medicare managed care plans, please see:
cms.hhs.gov/MCRAdvPartDEnrolData/PDMCPDO/list.asp

Medicaid

There are two types of payments received from state Medicaid programs: fee-for-service payments and capitated payments (fixed payment per member per month) under various Medicaid Managed Care plans.

Only include fee-for-service payments and the State Children's Health Insurance Program (SCHIP) in the Medicaid category. SCHIP is a joint federal/state program that provides health insurance for children in families that do not have any health insurance coverage that are not eligible for Medicaid. Payments from Medicaid managed care plans should be included with Line 1b - Private insurance.

For a current list of SCHIP programs, please see:

For a current list of Medicaid managed care plans, please see:
cms.hhs.gov/MedicaidDataSourcesGenInfo/06_DescStateProg.asp

Other government

This category includes all health care expenditures that are channeled through any program established by public law other than Medicare and Medicaid. These programs can be financed either by the federal government or state and local governments, or through a combination of both.

Other federal and state programs include, but are not limited to, the Department of Defense's TRICARE program, Maternal and Child Health Programs, The Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) including the Civilian Health and Medical Program of the Department of Veterans Affairs (CHAMPVA), Vocational Rehabilitation Programs, the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA), Indian Health Service (IHS), and state and local General Medical Assistance programs.

State and local General Medical Assistance programs vary from state to state. These programs provide funding on behalf of needy persons who do not qualify for federally-financed programs. The programs can be administered by a local agency under state supervision or a state Medicaid agency.

2011 Annual Services Report

Item Specific Instructions

Worker's compensation

There are two types of Worker's Compensation programs; those for federal employees or their dependents who are injured at work or acquire an occupational illness, and those for all other employees.

For federal employees or their dependents, the Department of Labor's Office of Workers' Compensation Programs (OWCP) administers four major disability compensation programs which provide wage replacement, medical treatment, vocational rehabilitation, and other benefits.

1. The Energy Employees Occupational Illness Compensation Program. This program started July 31, 2001.
2. Federal Employees' Compensation Program.
3. Longshore and Harbor Workers' Compensation Program.
4. Black Lung Benefits Program.

For non-federal employees, workers' compensation programs are available in all 50 states and in the District of Columbia. These programs are designed and administered by the state and are financed almost exclusively by employers.

Line 1b - Private insurance (includes Health, Property, and Auto)

Private health insurance - Included in Private Health Insurance are payments for health benefits that are paid for by private companies, whose plans are purchased by employers and/or individuals and financed by premiums. Examples of Private Health Insurance payments include:

- Medical service plans (Blue Cross/Blue Shield, group hospital plans, etc.).
- Third party direct contract insurers.
- Self-insured plans offered by employers and other groups who assume the major cost of health insurance for their employees or members.
- Employee health insurance by Federal (FEHBP), state, and local governments.
- Managed care plans: HMO's, PPO's, and POS's.
- Medicaid and Medicare managed care payments.

  For a current list of Medicare managed care plans, please see:
  cms.hhs.gov/MCRAdvPartDEnrolData/PDMCPDO/list.asp/

  For a current list of Medicaid managed care plans, please see:
  cms.hhs.gov/MedicaidDataSourcesGenInfo/06_DescStateProg.asp

- Medigap policies (Medicare Supplement insurance) that are purchased separately as a supplement to Medicare.

Property/Casualty and auto insurance - Health portion of property and casualty insurance plans include payments related to health care paid for by non-health insurance plans, such as homeowners insurance or automobile insurance plans.

Lines 1c and 1d - Patient out-of-pocket

Patient, self-pay, or out-of-pocket payments consist of direct payments for health care goods and services not covered by insurance, and can be in the form of deductibles and co-insurance. May be transferred from Health Savings Accounts, Medical Savings Accounts, or Flexible Spending Accounts. These payments can be from patients or their families, or they may be designated from the patient's Social Security benefit checks or a patient's annuities.

For Medicare, Medicaid, and other public programs, patients' deductibles and co-insurance should be included in Patient payments, as long as the payment is coming directly from the beneficiary and not from a third-party payer. For example, if Medigap policies, or supplementary insurance policies for Medicare beneficiaries, pay for co-insurance or deductibles on behalf of the beneficiary, these are considered Private Health Insurance payments and not Patient payments.
